Public Address System Voted for Summer Concerts Band Program Friday Playground Opens July 7

Plans for the summer band concerts and the opening of the children's playground in Newmarket advanced this week despite the continued rain. The new Newmarket band will give its first concert of the season Friday night at the band stand on Main street at 8 o'clock. An hour program is arranged for the entertainment of music lovers who are expected to gather from Newmarket and the surrounding towns.

The playground will open on the grounds of the Old High school on the hill Monday, July 7th, with Miss Mary-Louise Lanoix of Rochester and Portsmouth in charge and Miss Ellen Deem of Newmarket as her assistant.

Miss Lanoix was the instructor last season and plans a program very similar to the one so successful a year ago. There will be a special event scheduled for the opening day with free ice cream for all the children attending. Several mothers of the youngsters who enjoy the playground and from the Civic department of the Women's club will be present to help Miss Lanoix and Miss Deem.

Arrangements are being made to replace some of the equipment worn out last season. There will be a new sand box for the little tots, a new croquet set for the older children and those in charge are looking into the advisability of repairing the slide and adding to the swings already at the school.

There will be a special program each Monday as there was last year when nearly 200 children gathered on many occasions, and a beach trip for those who attend regularly.

The band members have commissioned Edward Camire to construct a public address system for the band concerts this summer and it is hoped now to have it operating by July 11th. Albert Emmond will be in charge of operating the public address system, George St. Laurent is in charge of uniforms.

The Newmarket Veterans, the members of the local veterans organizations and the headmaster of the High school have spent considerable time compiling a list of young men and women from Newmarket who served in the last World war. When this list is complete and as nearly correct as is possible it will be set in type on the Newmarket Town Honor Roll. This will not be done in time for the Fourth, however, as originally planned.

The Pilot has offered to assist by publishing the names as they appear now on the master list. The records from which they came are scattered and every family who has young people who served their country during the war is urged to check their names on this list. If the names are not here, if they are not spelled correctly, if the middle initial is missing, get in touch with the committee or with the Pilot. It is much easier to correct them now, than it will be later.

The names are arranged alphabetically and will be printed within the next two or three weeks, a few each week.

"They went out to get the car over a half hour ago. I wonder, do you suppose it was stolen or something?"

PERSUASIVE

Visitor—How did your horse happen to win the race?

Jockey—Well, I just kept whispering in his ear, "Roses are red, violets are blue—horses that lose are made into glue."

Two 'Firsts'

The young husband had just arrived home from the office.

"What's the matter, darling?" he asked his wife. "You look flustered."

"Oh, I've had a dreadful day," she replied. "Baby cut his first tooth and then he fell and knocked it out."

"Well, and then what happened?" "Oh, darling," she answered in a shocked voice, "he said his first word."

Too Springy

"Waiter, what kind of meat is this you served me?"

"Spring lamb, sir."

"I might have guessed. I've been chewing on one of the springs for the last hour."

Preparation

Patron—Why do you have only horror, detective and mystery stories in your shop?

Barber—I find it much easier to cut hair when it is standing on end.

WHERE ROOTS BELONG

A CERTAIN exceedingly wealthy and extremely ancient Chicago dowager, whose ambition seems to be to live forever, annually entertains a huge army of expectant heirs at a big party. They keep hoping that this party will be the last, and that their next meeting will be for the reading of the will, but Mrs. Moneybags keeps rolling along.

At her latest party, which occurred recently, the old lady looked down upon the gathering from her improvised dais and, with considerable relish, remarked, "What a wonderful sight it is to see such a number of branches flourishing from the same root!"

Whereupon one poor relation remarked to another, "The branches would flourish a darn sight better if only the root were under ground!"

They'll Be Sorry

"Friend Smithers," remarked a neighbor to the old gentleman whose family had relegated him to a dark little room in the attic, "don't you think your children are treating you rather badly?"

"Yes, I suppose they are," admitted the old man. He pondered the question a few moments, then suddenly cackled with glee. "But they have children," he added, "and they will avenge me!"

Such Manners

Three-year-old Ned was taken, for the first time, by his Grandma to the club for tea. When a glass of crushed ice and a bottle of ginger ale were placed in front of him, his eyes grew big—he was a real man now. After a sip or two of it he was asked how he liked his drink of ginger ale. "Fine, Grandma, but it sneezes in my face."

By J. Millar Watt

"--AND HE'S ALWAYS AT ME FOR SOMETHING TO SAVE"

DARK JOURNEY

A missionary, newly arrived at the cannibal island, asked where his predecessor was.

"Your predecessor," replied the cannibal chief, "has taken a trip to the interior."

A NEAT TRICK

Bride (interviewing new maid)—Are you efficient?

Maid—I am that. In the last place I worked, every morning I got up at four, made the fires, put on the kettle, prepared the breakfast, and made up all the beds before anyone was up in the house.

CAN'T DRINK 'PATIENCE'

"Give me some milk! Give me some milk!" the little girl yelled, banging her cup on the table.

"Why, Daughter, haven't you any patience?" one of her parents mildly chided her.

"Yes, I have," shouted the child, "but I haven't any milk!"

POOR PA!

Teacher, pointing to a deer at the zoo—Now, Johnny, tell me what that animal is.

Johnny—I don't know, teacher.

Teacher—What does your mother call your father?

Johnny—Golly! Is a louse that big?

Fair Enough

Teacher—Now, children, we'll have only a half-day of school this morning.

Jimmie (from back seat)—Hurray! Whoopee!

Teacher—Silence! We'll have the other half this afternoon.

An Insult!

"Why aren't you working?"

"The boss and I had a fight and he won't take back what he said to me."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'You're fired! Get out.'"

Well, She Did

Voice on Phone—Are your mother and father at home?

Little Boy—They's went out.

Voice—They's went out! Where's your grammar?

Little Boy—Oh, she's went out, too.

Force of Habit

Barber's Wife—You're late for breakfast again.

Barber—I know. I was shaving and first thing I knew, I'd talked myself into a shampoo and a massage.

Modern Child

The barber used his electric clippers while cutting little Betty's hair. On returning home she told her mother, "I guess my neck wasn't very clean, 'cause that man used his vacuum cleaner on it."

Identification Tag

The Tennessee mountaineer had long dreaded the journey from his peaceful Cumberland valley to "the outside"—down to Chattanooga.

Now, preparing to leave at last and urged by his wife to write his name on a slip of paper and put it in his pocket, he was dogged by foreboding.

He wrote, "In case of accident, this was Seth Scruggs."

Lucky Move

Ephraim, storekeeper in a small Vermont town, was greeted by a neighbor who consoled him on the loss of some of his merchandise during a fire. "Did you lose much?" asked the friend.

"Not too much," came the laconic reply. "I'd just marked most of my stock down 25 per cent."

JUST TESTING

The barber had cut him, nicked him and gashed him.

"Give me a glass of water, please," gasped the victim.

"You aren't going to faint, I hope?" asked the barber in alarm.

"No," replied the victim, "I just want to see if my mouth still holds water."

SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes

A Choice

Two girls were being followed by a lone male on a beautiful spring day. Finally one of them, in apparent indignation, turned to the young man and exclaimed, "Either you quit following us, or go get a friend."

Both Wrong

Shopper—Why, Mr. Smith, you're back again as floorwalker, I see. I thought you were an insurance man.

Smith—You made the same mistake I did.

Great Discovery

"What do you suppose Admiral Byrd and his crew learned on their recent polar expedition?" asked the teacher.

"They learned," replied the sober little lady in the first seat of the second row, "that penguins make good house pets."

A Contortion

Wife—Don't you think my hat is a perfect fit, dear?

Husband—Fit? It's practically a convulsion!

They were met as the plane landed by Mr. and Mrs. John Carpenter and came on to Newmarket immediately where they will spend several weeks with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Carpenter, and her husband.

They come from a dairy farming section of England outside of Birmingham and are greatly interested in this section of New England. While they have not been here long enough to make comparisons, their first impression is amazement at the great amount of open space, the distance between homes and the large fields and pastures.

They had an uneventful trip over, claiming there is no sensation of traveling in an airplane. When they broke through the clouds into the sunshine of morning, they claimed it was a beautiful and unforgettable sight.

Just Between Ourselves

It is nice to be missed.

We hoped to take several weeks off this summer to rest but find that the friends of The Great Bay Pilot missed us. So many of you have been kind in telling us how much your home-town paper means to you and so we will continue, with a few less pages through the hot weather, but all the local news you have come to enjoy.

The big secret which we hoped to keep until fall, we will tell you now. We are opening an office in the center of town, have already arranged for the Great Bay Pilot telephone which will be on the same line with our home telephone and are mentally lining up desks, chairs and cabinets to carry out our business.

I don't mind telling you where the office is to be—it is the lovely paneled room with a fireplace to the rear of the—now I'm stuck. Most of you know the building as the Beaudet rooming house, but it is remodelled and redecorated into a beautiful apartment hotel now and it has been called "The Ledges." The owners of the building want to use the name "Hillside Manor", however. This is the name the building was formerly called and they believe by retaining it they are carrying on a bit of Newmarket tradition it is well to preserve.

So the Great Bay Pilot is to have an office in "The Beaudet house—Ledges—Hillside Manor" on Chapel street. You can see the side entrance, "our entrance" from Charlie Labranch's Newsstand and we want you all to visit us as soon as it is ready. There's lots of repairing to do, but it will be lovely.

It is nice to see Jeannette back on the street and although she will be away next week on her vacation, there will be a competent operator at the beauty shop who will take care of all appointments.

Her new shop, at the corner of Central and Main streets, upstairs, is newly redecorated and very attractive.

Mrs. Kimball is offering pies, cakes, rolls and fancy breads for sale at Hotel Welley and what a boom this will be for Newmarket and Durham housewives this summer. These homebaked pastries are a real treat. Now take the pies, for instance, great thick fillings, tender crusts, put together in generous sized pie plates. I shan't be a bit afraid to ask friends in for an evening now when I can fall back on one of these—ordered a little ahead, of course.

The Telephone company has arranged with Mrs. Florence Moreau to take care of their business at her Variety Store on Main street, so the next time you have a bill to pay, it will be convenient to drop in there.

Herbert Randall is the Fuller Brush man in Newmarket. Has he called on you yet?

Wartime Service No Help To Raising School Marks

Durham—Wartime service did not improve the scholastic ability of freshmen at the University of New Hampshire, according to a study made by Wallace A. Russell, a graduate student in psychology who has lived in Newmarket this past year.

Russell studied the performance of 987 freshmen in biology, history and mathematics and found in biology the non-veterans were superior to the veterans and in the other two subjects, there was no significant difference in grades between the two groups.

MARKETING with Marjorie

Whether you've been married ten days or ten years, the "marry" month of June is a good time to serve better meals to your "better half." And one way to do it (and make your husband think you're a financial wizard, to boot) is to shop regularly at your thrifty A&P.

MIGHTY NICE WITH ICE

I don't think there's anything more delicious under the sun than really good iced coffee! It's easy to make, too, when you use A&P COFFEE. Select one of these three blends... EIGHT O'CLOCK, RED CIRCLE or BOKAR... in the whole bean (that's how A&P COFFEE is always sold to insure its freshness), and have it Custom Ground exactly right for your coffeepot. Make your coffee double strength, pour it over ice, and serve.

PEACHY PRESERVE TREAT

ANN PAGE PRESERVES (available only at A&P) are so famous I'm forever inventing new ways to enjoy them. Here's my latest: Fill cartons of 12 peach halves (fresh or canned) with 1/2 cup of chopped nuts mixed with 1/2 cup of ANN PAGE PRESERVES. Press halves together and chill. Heavenly topped with whipped cream and served over 6 o'clock.

FOR FLAVOR YOU'LL FAVOR

When a recipe says, "Season to taste," I have to guess at the quantity of spices to use. But I never guess at their quality. I make sure it's high by choosing ANN PAGE SPICES at the A&P. This complete line includes many choice varieties of whole and ground spices... all dependably pure and attractively priced. Try them!

ECONOMICAL AND EASY

Counting pennies? Count on this cake to save them... and to be light and fine-textured, too, thanks to SUNNYFIELD CAKE FLOUR (sold only by A&P). Cream 1/2 cup shortening and 1/2 cup sugar; add 1 egg and 1 tsp. vanilla; beat well. Sift together 1 1/2 cups sifted SUNNYFIELD CAKE FLOUR, 2 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt; add alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Pour into greased and wax-paper-lined 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 30 to 35 minutes.

The brick work of Haley & Co.'s new warehouse is completed.

Charles H. Eddy, formerly of Newmarket, is now overseer in the cotton mill at Dodgeville, Mass.

About 140 cans or 1190 quarts of milk are sent to Boston from this station every day. The largest producer is John C. Bartlett of Lee, whose daily average is 25 cans.

Last Sunday the new Catholic cemetery at the Junction was blessed by Bishop Bradley, with appropriate ceremonies.

The gondola "Fearless" of this town is taking the cargo of the "John Lenthall" from Portsmouth to Exeter and is making some quick trips. She left Exeter Monday at noon and was back again Tuesday afternoon; started off again that night and returned again the next day.

Fat Muldoon's Irish Student Comedy Company played to a small house here Wednesday evening. Some parts were quite good and others decidedly poor. However wed. can't know but it was up to the average of the class of entertainments which visit Newmarket.

The United States may make the mistake of trying to go two ways at the same time, if you have an idea of what we mean.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union

CIO Is Reviving Its Political Action

WASHINGTON.—Some people believe you may escape a thing by ignoring it. They work on the basis that if anyone will just imagine a thing does not exist, it does not exist—for them. Yet it is a little difficult to escape a bear by ignoring it. It also is difficult to escape the influence of $6,000,000 by not seeing it. But it seems practically to have been done.

I work on a little different basis. If a thing exists and I see it or hear it or feel it, I believe it exists. Especially have I believed this of things which I thought were after me, a bear of any variety, for instance. I always suspected this was primarily essential to self-preservation. Little more than a normal animal instinct.

But I know this cannot be true, because practically everyone seems to have decided to ignore the move of the revived CIO-PAC and affiliated organizations to spend somewhere between $3,000,000 and $6,000,000 in a few months, or possibly $6,000,000 a month to influence public opinion against the labor bills and permanently to turn and control American public opinion. In short, CIO-PAC is proposing to spend a colossal sum to defeat congressmen as it did when riding high a few years back. At that time it succeeded in knocking off several prominent legislators in the South without letting anyone suspect what was up.

HUGE CAMPAIGN FUND

As I say, all I know is what I see, feel and hear. I missed this yarn and its significance myself. But when strange and familiar things began happening to me, I tried to ascertain the source of these events, and came upon this phenomena.

My clipping service and others more extensive have been able to find only three clips on CIO-PAC in two months. Six or seven paragraphs down a New York Times story I found a bare mention. This story was about the well known effort of CIO to rally support against the union reform and other union bills, calling it a "damnable conspiracy" as one of the mildest terms. But if you read the usual stuff at the top closely, you will eventually come upon a quotation from Philip Murray, president of CIO, at a rally in New York saying just this: "One dollar a month will be raised in voluntary subscriptions from CIO members." The article did not suggest even to a wary reader the sum total of this, or the almanac claim that CIO has 6,500,000 members. It left an impression with me, at any rate, that this was just for a month or so to fight the legislation. But the same story quotes Jack Kroll, head of CIO-PAC, as saying CIO-PAC was being revived permanently on a local basis in wards, precincts and neighborhoods, to mold public opinion. Subsequent inside information confirms and expands all this major permanent unadvertised drive.

A press service story in the Washington Star gave more prominence to the idea with a headline: "CIO reorganizes PAC for real job in 1948" (but something entirely different because it suggests activities are directed mainly toward next year). The New York Herald-Tribune headlined its story: "CIO-PAC to work on an intimate scale," which showed a greater appreciation of the significance.

One of these two stories quoted Murray as suggesting $3,000,000 or $3,500,000 would be raised, which is again different from the N. Y. Times indication of one dollar per CIO member. (I use the $6,000,000 figure because it represents average CIO opinion of its membership in contradistinction to the almanac claim of 6,500,000, or the lower Murray figure which would indicate that at one dollar apiece, CIO has only half as many men as claimed.)

SMARTEST CAMPAIGN

That is all I can find in the press files concerning this phenomena of publicity. How this happened I do not know. But I can see the result, even some results which are not generally known, which show this is the smartest campaign CIO-PAC has attempted, if not the biggest.

You know, of course, of the general charge that CIO-PAC has been dominated in key spots by Communists around the country. Some claim it has been purged and other labor insist claim Communies are too deep to be dug out, but are being nullified. You know also of the popularity now of local movements, since the Newburyport price plan, the Dunkirk society and some others.

Now maybe Republican congressmen can escape this thing created to devour them. Maybe other avenues of reaching public opinion can also. Personally I will continue on a different assumption.

Nurse Is Heroine in Railroad Disaster

Helped Doctor in Caring for Dying and Injured.

ALTOONA, PA.—Two motion-picture executives aboard the Pennsylvania railroad flyer, the American, wrecked near Huntingdon, named a registered nurse as the "heroine" of the crash.

John R. McCrory and Julian Bryan, both of New York City, said they were passengers on a sleeping car to the rear of the coach which was telescoped.

They said all lights were knocked out in the crash and that trainmen rushed through asking for medical aid. An unidentified doctor and the nurse, Myrtle Carlo of Bronx, N. Y., hurried to aid the dying and injured.

Miss Carlo said that there were "no plasma, no sulfa drugs and no morphine aboard the train."

"We had to work only with band-aids until a doctor arrived with morphine a half hour after the wreck. The railroad aid car came from Altoona an hour and a half later."

Miss Carlo said she and the doctor had to work by lantern flares. She said most of the injured suffered shock and had bad cuts.

McCrory said the freight train carrying sheet steel on two gondolas had stopped on a westbound track. The steel cut loose from its moorings, striking the baggage car behind the American's engine as the American flashed along an adjacent westbound track, he said.

"Then," McCrory continued, "the steel bounced back, slashed across two cars and cut through the fourth car like a knife."

"It hit the upper part of the window of that coach," he said, "and ripped the entire side of the coach to pieces. Then the steel earned through a washroom into another coach."

Midnight 'Ghost Plane' Stirs Mystery in Great Britain

LONDON.—Recurring reports of a midnight "ghost plane" swooping out of the east at tremendous speed gave the British press a sensational aviation mystery, but the royal air force, while admitting the whole thing was "slightly mysterious," refused to get excited.

Eyewitness accounts said the mystery craft, first plotted by radar early in January, zooms over the east Anglia coast—as though it came from the continent—and disappears inland at a speed of 400 miles an hour or more.

What is even odder is that the plane never has been seen making the return journey from England to the continent. RAF night fighters have tried regularly to intercept the "ghost plane" but so far have been unsuccessful.

"Radar has plotted some strange things in its time, from children's kites and raindrops to formations of geese, but it surely never plotted a stranger thing than this," said the Yorkshire Post, adding:

"Is it a diamond or drug smuggler? Is it conveying a secret agent from one foreign power to another? The only version we have not yet heard is that the aircraft's wings have been seen to be covered with snow."

War Widow Is Exonerated in Shooting of Molester

LOS ANGELES.—A coroner's jury exonerated Mrs. Ginevra Knight, 18, a war widow, in her shooting of Thomas Houston, 24, described by police as a jockey, when he accosted her as she drove into the garage at her home.

It returned a verdict of justifiable homicide after she testified Houston approached her, placed his hand over her mouth and said: "Don't scream or I'll kill you. I'm taking you with me."

She said she had gone into her house and got her gun before driving into the house because she "had been molested several times."

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Payments to Beneficiaries

Veterans' administration is paying approximately 32 million dollars a month to almost 879,000 dependents of deceased veterans of all wars, according to recent announcement. Of this number, more than 45 per cent, or 396,000, are dependents of deceased World War II veterans and 41 per cent, or 363,000, are beneficiaries of deceased World War I veterans. Only 96,000 of the latter are results of service connected death, the rest being compensated in cases of veteran deaths not resulting from service in the armed forces.

The rolls also include 78,000 dependents of deceased Spanish-American war veterans, 19,000 from the Civil war, 2,345 from the Indian wars, 47 from the Mexican war and nearly 20,000 dependents of veterans who died in peacetime service.

Of the total number of dependents, 372,000 are widows, 261,000 children and 246,000 parents.

Living veterans receiving disability compensation or pension now number 2,328,000 and their benefit checks add up to approximately 114 million dollars per month. Of these, 1,736,000 are World War II veterans. The number of World War II disability claims filed per month has declined from a peak of 70,000 in September, 1946, to about 50,000 last month.

Questions and Answers

Q. Our nephew served in the army in peacetime. During the time he was in service he received an injury which at times incapacitates him for hard work. We were wondering if there is any provision for treatment for him or if he is entitled to a monthly allowance for his injury?—Mrs. A. J. H., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

A. Yes, there are certain rates of compensation provided for disability resulting from either injury or disease for veterans who served in peacetime, either in the army or navy. If he received a discharge other than dishonorable he would be entitled to make application to the nearest Veterans' administration office. They would determine his degree of disability, which likely would range from $10.35 a month for a 10 per cent disability up to more than $100 a month for total disability.

Q. There are six of us here in Honolulu, all Filipinos, educated in the schools here, who served with the Philippine army and later with the guerilla forces in the Philippines against the Jap aggressors. There has been some talk that we may be eligible for some of the benefits which go to American veterans under the so-called G.I. bill. Can you advise us whether this is true? — Filipino contingent, Lanchai, Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands.

A. You may be potentially eligible. Veterans' administration says out of about a million claimants who served with guerilla forces, about 338,000 will be officially recognized for G.I. benefits. You either must have served with the U. S. armed forces as a matter of record or certification or, if with guerilla forces, your commander must have been an army, navy or marine corps officer or of the commonwealth army, recognized by and cooperating with the U. S. forces. There is a Veterans' administration office in Honolulu. Suggest you apply there for detailed information.

Q. I read in your column recently something about the government returning interest charges on loans of World War I veterans on their bonus money. However, I am not sure I come within that category. To whom do I write to find out?—H. L. N., Charlottesville, Va.

A. Write to Mrs. E. M. Robinson, Chief, Adjusted Compensation Section, Finance Division, Veterans Administration, Room 4346 Munitions Building, Washington, D. C.

Q. We have been reading about the crowded conditions in colleges. Our son is expecting to get his discharge sometime in September or October of this year. Will it be possible for us to enter him in school under the G.I. bill before he is discharged so that he could start right in school when he gets home?—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McP., Hastings, Minn.

A. No. Your son must be a veteran and must have obtained his honorable discharge before he can make application for any benefits under the G.I. bill.

Q. My husband was in service for two years until the first of this month but was not sent overseas. He has reenlisted for three years. What I want to know is will he have to go overseas before he gets a discharge or will they keep him in the states for his three-year enlistment and will he have to serve his full time? — Worried wife, Chillicothe, Ohio.

A. Your husband likely will have to go wherever he is ordered during his three-year enlistment. He will have to serve his full time except time off for furlough.

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.
If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail

WHEN Jack Berch turns to "heart-to-heart hook-up" time on his NBC show, weekday mornings, it means something special to a child, a family, a community. For instance, Dennie Horan, a young boy in Dayton, Ohio, was very ill; his mother wrote Jack, who responded with a song and a plea to his listeners to comfort the lad—and more than 2,000 letters, along with many games and toys, went to the lad. The Ladies Sewing Circle of South Lake, Inlet, N.

Y., received miles of yarn for lap robes for crippled veterans after appealing to Jack. Never once has he failed to reach America's heart in behalf of a worthy cause.

When Judy Garland learned that "The Pirate" script called for her to pause in a crowd scene and pat the head of a beautiful baby she asked that the infant's role be played by Miss Liza Minelli—14 months old daughter of the picture's director, Vincent Minelli, and the star, Miss Garland. Liza joined the Screen Actors Guild and accepted the part. Gene Kelly co-stars with her mother.

Jimmy Durante's received a new contract from Metro, and will head the cast of "You're Beautiful," in which, for the first time in his career, he'll win the girl. Before making that one, and after finishing
"On an Island With You," he's planning to visit England and tour the British vaudeville circuits—but will the English public be able to understand him?

Though film production is trimmed at many studios, Columbia Pictures has all its sound stages occupied. At Metro they're talking about making two pictures in 1948 starring Lauritz Melchior, who'll do "Luxury Liner" this summer with Jane Powell.

The Cass County Boys, featured on Gene Autrey's radio show, have been cast for acting and singing roles as Smiley Burnette's barbershop pals in Columbia's "Buckaroo
From Powder River," which stars
Burnette and Charles Starrett.

Claude ("Yearling") Jarman Jr. has been borrowed from MGM by RKO for a leading role in "Roughshod." Now 12 years old, he'll play a boy of 16 who's illiterate but accomplished in woodlore and trapping.

ODDS AND ENDS—Howard Duff, frequently heard in lead roles on
"The Whistler," gets his first movie starring role in "Homicide." . . . ABC's Professor Quiz plans to do his program in New York this summer, so he can attend to chores on his farm. . . . Two hours before his "Case Book of Gregory Hood" left the air Elliott Lewis signed to start in the new adventure series, "The Voyage of the Scarlet Queen." . . . Eleanor Parker's the cross-books while making "The Voice of the Turtle."
