ROSEMARY

See who's here! Yes it is little Rosemary Wojnar, at the age of two, sitting on her sled in the snow with her Panda bear. She is a very attractive and lovable little girl. Rosemary has several uncles and aunts and they are always buying her something. She has such pretty dresses and looks like a little princess when dressed up. Her mamma works in the mill and Rosemary stays with Miss Edith Langley, and on Saturdays she generally goes somewhere with her mother and of course, her sister Dorothy goes too. Mrs. Wojnar says her children shall always go where she does.

Her sister Dottie goes to school. Rosemary can say many pieces. She especially likes "Little Robin Red Breast Sitting on a Stump." When Dottie first went to school she was always saying the prayers her teachers taught her. Rosemary thought she would say some one day, so kneeling down by her bed and folding her little hands she said: "Hail Mary full of grace. Baby on the tree top." Well I think the Lord heard her just the same as he always hears little children.

If you happen to be on South Main street some time just call on Rosemary and perhaps she will give you a "pisha" which is Polish for kiss.

Palestine Heads for Climax as Arabs Prepare Attack; Vandenberg Serves Blunt Notice on World Communists

By BILL SCHOENTGEN
WNU Staff Writer

CLIMAX: Palestine

With a clashing of arms and a babble of alarmed voices, events in Palestine appeared to be piling up for another minor but bloody climax in human history.

This particular crisis had its immediate beginning in a savage attack on the Arab city of Jaffa by members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground force. Fact, that the Irgunists' foray against Jaffa was made in defiance of orders by Haganah, the regular Jewish militia, carried no weight in the rush of incidents that followed.

From Palestine's coastal plain, site of the neighboring cities of Jaffa (Arab) and Tel Aviv (Jewish), the focal point of the disturbances moved swiftly inland to the holy city of Jerusalem.

Arabs and Jews hastily deployed their on-the-scene forces in preparation for what stacked up to be a major battle for possession of Jerusalem. Facing each other across a scant 200 yards of no-man's land, each side had its eyes fixed on the strategic Alamein camp which the British were evacuating.

But that wasn't all. It soon became apparent that the Arab league nations surrounding Palestine did not intend to stay out of this fight.

Reports were current that six Arab nations had decided to invade the Holy Land with ground, sea and air forces before the British ended their mandate on May 15.

That action was said to have been agreed upon at a conference of leaders of the Arab states, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Egypt, Syria and Lebanon. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan was reported to have dispatched Arab legion reinforcements from Trans-Jordan to Palestine.

The whole thing was shaping up in the form of a more or less total Arab effort to crush completely the Jewish intention of creating a Zionist state in Palestine.

Worried United Nations delegates, meanwhile, cast about for a means to prevent the inevitable carnage, or at least to preserve the city of Jerusalem.

France pushed its sponsorship of a heavily-armed volunteer U. N. police corps to safeguard Jerusalem. Hint of the make-up of such a force was given in the suggestion that it might include 100 New York police volunteers, but no Russians. This protective army would number from 500 to 800 members.

While the Palestine situation leaped into a frantic state of flux, the United States kept discreetly out of it all in conformation to its recently adopted policy of apparent disinterest to what happens in the Holy Land.

DEFIANCE: Two Issues

In a surprise speech at a dinner given by Michigan chambers of commerce for the state's congressional delegation, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg served notice on Russia that:

1. The United States may join western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression, and

2. "We shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

Thus, the chief Republican proponent of bi-partisan foreign policy split the rind on two issues which, like grapefruit, will come more and more to be in the public eye as this year wears on.

Simply stated, those two issues are: Whether the U. S. should line up militarily alongside the recently formed union of western European nations, and whether the Communist party should be outlawed in this country.

Target

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO), was seriously wounded when he was shot by an unknown assailant who fired a shotgun at him through the window of his Detroit home. Communists were suspected of being behind the attack because of Reuther's strong opposition to them in the union.

They could become decisive issues in the presidential campaign. Indeed, Harold Stassen already has introduced one of them by coming out bluntly in favor of outlawing Communists in the U. S.

Vandenberg said, "We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

The Michigan senator only hinted at a U. S. military alliance with western Europe, but his remarks hardly could be misconstrued.

What Vandenberg didn't say is that while the U. S. has no formal or official role in the union of western European nations, American aid and support, military-wise, of that union almost inevitably is implied.

For neither England, France, the Netherlands, Belgium or Luxembourg, singly or together, could so much as pretend to oppose military aggression by Russia. To be effective at all the union must have the assurance that it is backed by U. S. military strength.

Whether or not this nation will grant that assurance will come to be a towering question in the public mind soon.

SMASHER: For Atoms

To expand further the constantly widening fields of atomic research, a gigantic new cyclotron will be built at the University of California at a total cost of nine million dollars.

In announcing the project the atomic energy commission said the new cyclotron—commonly known as an atom-smasher—would be 20 times more powerful than the 4,900-ton machine currently in operation at the Berkeley institution.

David E. Lillenthal, AEC chairman, provided a hint as to the kind of long range planning for peace the commission is visualizing when he said that the new cyclotron "serves notice to the world that it is the intent of the people of the United States to be pre-eminent in the development of fundamental science of all kinds."

Engineering already is under way on the huge atom-splitter, but it will take five years before it is completed. Conceived as 20 times more powerful than the most powerful cyclotron now operating, it will produce atomic bullets ranging in force from six billion to 10 billion volts.

EDITOR'S NOTE — When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union news analysts, and not necessarily of this newspaper.

FOOD PRICES: Logical

Not that it makes it any easier to pay the grocery bill, but the reasons why food prices are so high are no mystery.

U. S. has been channelling food and resources into foreign countries at a rate and volume never before approached. Also, every American able to digest solid food is eating 17 per cent more than he did before the war.

Finally, until just recently, consumers have been spending their money on food because there was nothing much else available to buy.

Those conclusions were reached by University of Wisconsin economists after an investigation into the causes of current high price levels.

Center of the whole spiral are grain prices.

Strong exports of corn and wheat caused an upswing in prices on the commodity markets. More expensive grains cause prices of flour, bread, ham, pork loin and rib roasts to go up.

In their analysis the Wisconsin men said, "Food prices bring demands for higher wages. Higher wages increase the price of most manufactured goods and the price of all services."

Agricultural products rose faster than non-farm goods, but now the top of the farm boom has been passed; the economists concluded. The farmer's net in 1948 will be less than that of 1947. His prices are falling but his costs will stay up.

OREGON: Next Up

After whirling breezily through Ohio to the thorough disgruntlement of Sen. Robert Taft, campaigning Harold E. Stassen set his political sights on the May 21 Oregon primary election where he was due to joust with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for that state's Republican convention delegates.

In a kick-off address in Portland Stassen refurbished his foreign and domestic policies for the edification of Oregon voters who will elect the 12-member GOP delegation.

He advocated these measures, all of which now are commonly identified with the very name of Stassen:

1. Outlawing of the Communist party in America and in all freedom-loving nations.

2. Establishment by the U. S. and other members of the United Nations of joint bases and joint plans of defense, with or without Russia.

3. Restoration of more freedom of bargaining under the Taft-Hartley law.

4. Government support for the price of an entire crop at 90 per cent of parity in any normal crop situation.

5. Establishment of consumer credit restrictions to hold down credit during periods of high employment.

Money Talks

Now an inventor has come up with a check that not only will talk but will scream if it has been forged or tampered with.

Burgess Smith, who used to do legal counterfeiting for the U. S. treasury, claims that his check will identify itself verbally when it is passed through a special machine. And if it has been tampered with it will emit a shrill screech, indicating that it is worthless.

OUTLOOK

The Dim Peace

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, was taking a dim view of the possibilities of peace.

In fact, he admitted to the senate armed services committee, the prospect of a war is appreciably greater now than it was three months ago.

Adding forcefully to the pattern of evidence which U. S. armed forces representatives have been constructing to support their requests for a military draft and universal training, Bradley said:

"I think we would be neglecting our duty if we did not try to tell you that we are a little bit more afraid something will happen than we were three months ago when we were talking in terms of reserves."

And he added "we are not so sure" that war might not be looming in the immediate future.

To his testimony Bradley appended this clincher:

"Unless we are willing to fight a defensive war, on this continent, you must have a reserve in being, and a trained reserve, or else you are going to sit here until you can build it up, train it and equip it, and in the meantime you may have lost all footholds from which you can attack Russia, because we know that we are all speaking about Russia."

There it was—a responsible appraisal by the chief of staff of where the present talking war between Russia and the U. S. might lead.

What caused General Bradley to think the situation is more critical now than it was three months ago? He didn't say, but there is only one apparent explanation.

The tide of power politics has turned against Russia and is moving in favor of the western democracies. With ERP beginning to channel money and supplies into Europe, the fields most favorable to Communist growth—poverty, hunger and dissatisfaction—are starting to be reclaimed.

As far as getting control of western Europe was concerned, Communists saw their main chance go glimmering when they lost the Italian election. They have, in short, gone beyond the stage where they can carry out territorial acquisitions through political coups.

In order to expand further now, Russia probably would have to apply force, which, in this case, would be the Red army.

And that may be why General Bradley thinks war is more of a likelihood now than it was three months ago.

WOO WOO: Wedding

Henry J. Topping clutched his fourth bride to his flowing necktie and bumbled into her starboard ear: "This is forever."

Lana Turner inclined her fabulously coiffed golden head, beamed a smile replete with bliss on her third husband and whispered: "Yes, darling."

And so they were married—the Hollywood glamour queen and the millionaire tinplate heir.

The wedding was a simple affair, distinguished only by such exoticisms as carved ice statuary of the bride and bridegroom and love birds kissing, a 50-foot flower trellis, lobsters flown from Boston, roast pheasant and caviar. There were no hummingbirds' tongues and only 14 guests.

Topping was the epitome of composure throughout the ceremony, but Miss Turner, giving way to a severe case of nerves, trembled and swayed like a rose in the south wind as the Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan pronounced the words "man and wife."

It was a great script, perfectly executed. There was just one discordant note, and that was introduced by Arline Judge, from whom Topping lately had been divorced.

"Wait till Bob hits her in the eye," she said. "Wait till she shows up at her studio with a great big shiner." Meantime, the Toppings' honey- was just starting.

MINERS: Temporary

Let not the public be deceived by the spell of quiet that is reigning in the nation's soft coal mines and the temporary evaporation of John L. Lewis from the stage.

As it looks now, this peaceful situation is good only until June 30. Even while the miners continue to chop coal in the pits, they make it clear that they expect to go back to their fishing on that date.

June 30 is the day the present wage agreement between the United Mine Workers and the coal operators expires. It is possible, of course, that a new agreement may be reached before then, but it is practically impossible to find anyone who thinks so.

After Lewis' tussle with Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough in which he and the union were fined a total of $1,420,000, the miners went back to work after hearing John L.'s "wish" that they do so.

One of the reasons advanced for Lewis' cantankerous delay in coming to terms on the pension dispute was that the mine leader was eking out the work stoppage as long as possible in order to deplete the nation's coal reserves and so put himself in a better bargaining position when the contract negotiations came up.

That he accomplished that end there is no gainsaying. Coal stocks went down almost to zero all over the country, resulting in curtailment of steel production, a cut in rail travel and various major and minor industrial shutdowns.

It is a fact, too, that industry will not have recovered its balance sufficiently by June 30 to cope adequately with whatever emergency Lewis might precipitate this time.

At Large

Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman has been named by President Truman as ambassador-at-large for the European recovery program. Harriman resigned his cabinet post immediately.

SHORTAGE: Farm Machinery

Behind the present shortage of farm machinery in the U. S. lies a now all-too-familiar story: More such machinery is being produced than ever before but it isn't enough to meet the demand.

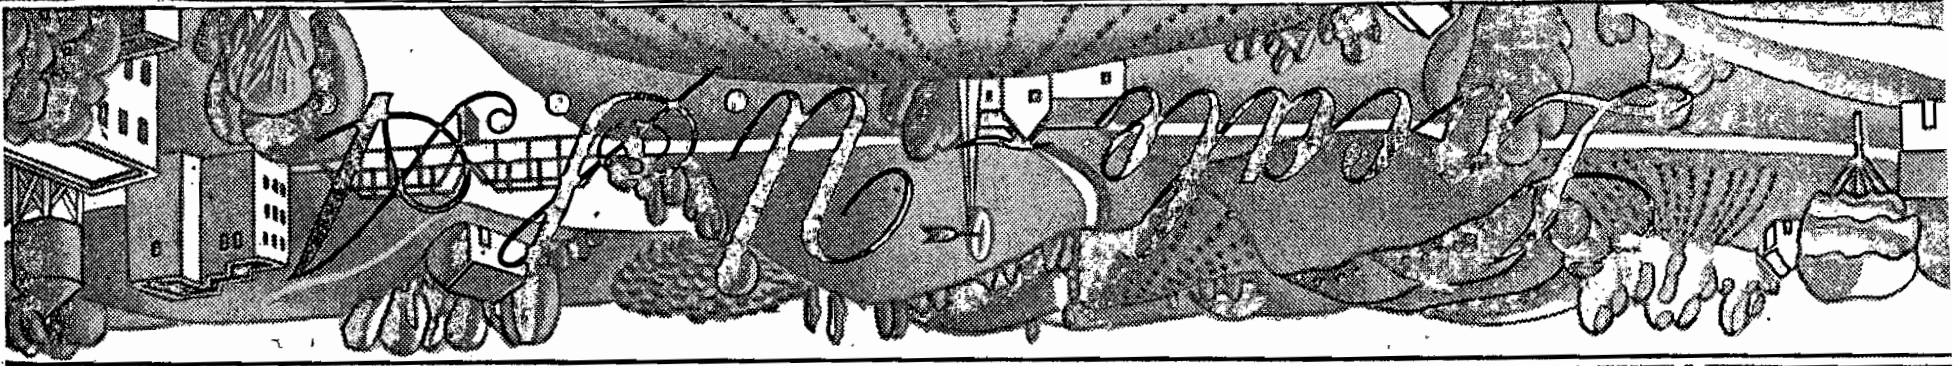

Waiting list for farm machinery is phenomenally long, yet 131 per cent more tractors, cream separators and other pieces of farm equipment were produced in 1947 than were available in 1939.

The shortage is not the result of shipments of farm equipment to Europe. It is a result of the fact that U. S. farmers, now making more money than at any time in history, are demanding more machinery than the industry is able to produce.

SKY-HIGH: Bombing

A team of air force and army ordnance men is seeking better methods of hitting pin-point bomb targets from extremely high altitudes, out of reach of most anti-aircraft guns or fighter planes.

This joint organization is conducting most of its secret tests in the California desert at Muroc air base. It's assignment is to carry out research in bombing techniques, particularly at high altitudes.

A LITTLE PARABLE FOR MOTHERS

The young mother set her foot on the path of life.

"Is the way long?" she asked.

And her guide said: "Yes, and the way is hard, And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be far better than the beginning."

But the young mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years. So she played with her children, and gathered flowers for them along the way, and bathed with them in the clear streams: and the sun shone on them, and life was good, and the young mother cried, "Nothing will ever be lovelier than this."

Then night came, and storm, and the path was dark, and the children shook with fear and cold, and the mother drew them close and covered them with her mantle, and the children said, "Oh, Mother, we are not afraid, for you are near, and no harm can come," and the mother said, "This is better than the brightness of day, for

And the morning came, and there was a hill ahead, and the children climbed and grew weary, and the mother was weary, but at all times she said to the children, "A little patience and we are there." So the children climbed, and when they reached the top, they said, "We could not have done it without you, Mother." And the mother, when she lay down that night, looked up at the stars and said: "This is a better day than the last, for my children have learned fortitude in the face of hardness. Yesterday I gave them courage. Today I have given them strength."

And the next day came strange clouds which darkened the earth: clouds of war and hate and evil, and the children groped and stumbled, and the mother said: "Look up. Lift your eyes to the Light." And the children looked and saw above the clouds an Everlasting Glory, and it guided them and brought them beyond the darkness. And that night the mother said, "This is the best day of all, for I have shown my children God."

And the days went on and the weeks and months, and the years and the mother grew old, and she was little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage. And when the way was rough, they lifted her, for she was as light as a feather; and at last they came to a hill, and beyond the hill they could see a shining road and golden gates flung wide.

And the mother said: "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know that the end is better than the beginning for my children can walk alone and their children after them."

And the children said, "You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the gates."

And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said: "We cannot see her but she is with us still. A mother like ours is more than memory. She is a Living Presence."

Attention GI's

In the Spring many a veteran's thoughts turn to plans for vacation in the Summer months ahead.

With this theme in mind the Veteran's Administration and the New Hampshire Unemployment Compensation Division offer a bit of advice to the many veterans soon to leave educational and training schools in the state.

Servicemen's readjustments allowances or GI jobless benefits are not to be used for vacations with pay. These benefits are intended to assist the veteran, who is earnestly seeking work, not the chap who wants to relax during the summer school vacation.

These veteran benefits are like a savings account in the bank and should be saved until really needed.

When school days are finished and a permanent position is the goal, unemployment benefits may help while the veteran is seeking his place.

Watch out for overpayments. If a veteran is receiving GI training assistance and he seeks GI jobless benefits during his vacation, he should be certain he tells the unemployment claims examiner that he has been in school. The examiner will clear his claim and inform him of his benefit rights. Failure to give all the facts could result in overpayments and overpayments must be repaid by the veteran.

Many seasonal jobs will be opened up about the time schools let out and if GI's want to earn money this summer they should head for their nearest State Employment Service office. They will be advised on job prospects in their own area or throughout the state.

To keep left-over egg yolks until they can be used, place them in a dish or cup and add just enough cold water to cover.

CLASS OF '48

THERE'S a big day coming soon — the day when you get your diploma. By enlisting in the Army or Air Force after graduation you can take full advantage of one of the finest opportunities ever offered a young man.

CHOOSE YOUR FIELD OF SPECIAL TRAINING BEFORE YOU ENLIST!

If you are 18 to 34 (17 with parents' consent) and a high school graduate, you can select your course of training in the Army or the Air Force before enlisting.

Under the Army Technical School Plan you can specify two different courses that appeal to you in each of two fields. The Army will check to make sure there is an opening in one of the four courses you have selected, and a place will be reserved for you in that course. Then you enlist for 3, 4 or 5 years, and after passing the physical and mental examinations and completing basic training you will be guaranteed training in your chosen field.

The Air Force offers a similar opportunity in its Aviation Career Plan, giving you a pre-enlistment choice of 3 among the more than 40 USAF Specialist Schools. There is no better way to get a start in the great and growing field of aviation.

Either plan gives you good pay, excellent training and a splendid chance for advancement in a real career. You can get full information, including lists of available Specialist Schools and Technical Courses, at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

Wesley Lyons of Rochester has been named city chairman of the Rochester area for the statewide "Crusade for Children" campaign, which opens in New Hampshire May 17, it has been announced at the headquarters of the American Overseas Aid, United Nations Appeal for Children, sponsors of the drive, by John M. Brant of Rochester, Strafford county chairman.

Commenting on the appointment of the former Rochester mayor to head the campaign in that city, former Gov. Robert O. Blood, state chairman, said "this is the type of leadership which is needed in this great humanitarian effort to help relieve the plight of hundreds of millions of the world's hungry children and other war victims in devastated nations."

As city chairman Mr. Lyons will organize Rochester efforts in joining with other communities in the state to arise the $210,000 New Hampshire share of the 60 million dollar national Crusade for Children fund goal.

Baptist Church To Have "Little Boston Garden Rally"

The True Memorial Baptist church of Rochester has planned a "Little Boston Garden Rally," as an echo-meeting to the great rally on Saturday in Boston Garden. Jack Wyrzten and his gospel team will have charge of the meeting at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, May 16th in the auditorium of the Baptist church. Jack Wyrzten is the organizer of three recent youth rallies which are stirring the young people of the East. Early in April, a meeting was held which crowded out Philadelphia Convention Hall with an estimated crowd of 15,000 people. On May 8th he conducted a great rally in Boston Garden. A record-breaking crowd is expected at the climactic rally to be held in the Yankee Stadium of New York City with a capacity of 75,000 people. It is expected that there will be a choir of 12,000 voices for this service.

Jack Wyrzten was led to give his life for Christian service through the efforts of George Schilling, now pastor of the Rochester Baptist church. Both had enlisted as young men in the 101st Cavalry where they enthusiastically accepted the worldly philosophy of the cavalryman. Jack had sold insurance and also had led a jazz band in those dimly lighted night spots where juvenile delinquency comes to flower. George was converted to Christianity, and finally persuaded Jack to give his talents for Christian service.

Jack Wyrzten has been in Rochester a number of times, and has encouraged many young people here in their determination to try to live the Christian life. Jack's many friends will be glad to know of his coming. Delegations from the churches of the area are expected to attend.

By His Excellency, CHARLES M. DALE, Governor

A Proclamation

I AM AN AMERICAN DAY

For several years it has been the custom to observe a Sunday in May as "I Am An American Day." At no time has this occasion been more important than at the present time because it provides an opportunity to awaken in all of our citizens thoughts of their responsibilities and privileges in this country.

Loyalty to American ideals has brought together people of every race, creed and culture and out of these different groups has come a unity which has made our country strong and great.

Therefore, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, and under the power vested in me, I, Charles M. Dale, Governor of New Hampshire, do hereby proclaim Sunday, May 16, as I Am An American Day and urge its observance in all appropriate manners.

DOGS ENTER POLITICS

Somebody asked President Truman the other day what had become of Feller, the cocker spaniel pup presented to him last winter. "Oh, he's around," answered the President, admitting under pressure that the pooch was still non-resident at the White House and in charge of the presidential physician, Dr. Graham, over at his place. This is bound to cost Harry more votes.

A dog, especially a puppy, is good publicity. Affection for one warms the public heart. It gives the human touch to a man and to a situation. But Harry seems about as close to this pup as he does to Hank Wallace.

After a single day's blast of publicity when the dog arrived at the White House as a gift, Feller fell out of the news. It later developed that, not being housebroken, the pooch had been turned over to Dr. Graham. And now, months later, the animal is still an outsider. Mr. Truman's campaign backers had better look into this.

Any reputation a man may have built up for big-heartedness, authority and an ability to cope with major problems is shattered when the impression spreads that home-breaking a pup is too big for him.

We warn the Democratic national committee that all is lost unless it immediately takes action. The Republicans may circulate a photo of a sad-looking presidential pooch, alone and desolate, under the caption "When a Feller Needs a Friend."

Harry should adopt a more heart-warming dog policy at once. (Has he a pup policy? Is he for tolerance when it comes to housebreaking a hound? What is his doghouse problem, short term and long range? We pause for a reply.)

Better have the doctor bring the pooch back to the White House, Harry. He must be fairly well broken by this time. If not it might be a good idea to keep the dog and fire Dr. Graham.

Tough Job to Quit British Government

Without losing an election, it's almost impossible for a British member of parliament to quit his job.

Under British law a member of parliament can't resign except in a few special cases such as bankruptcy or involvement in a scandal. Such excuses as ill health, business, or even elevation to the peerage aren't enough.

There is a way out. The M. P. can get a royal appointment to hunt outlaws in the beech forests of the Chiltern hills or get a royal job that doesn't exist. By English tradition, any M. P. who wants the bandit hunting job always gets it, —even if there aren't any bandits.

How to help your sick child GET WELL FASTER

... as recommended in the interest of child welfare by
ROSE G. ANDERSON, Ph.D.
Director of The Psychological Service Center, New York

1. The after-effects of your child's illness are often more important than the illness itself. Pampering, catering to whims, oversolicitude teaches a child to dominate through weakness. Such well-meant kindness may prolong his convalescence.

2. You'll be smart to help him amuse himself. Give him something which doesn't require an adult's constant attention. Give him your "Eveready" flashlight... or get him one of his own. If he tires of flashing the beam, or flicking out imaginary signals, then...

3. Show him how to cut designs or figures from stiff paper and how to throw their shadows on the ceiling or wall. Moving the figures will make them dance. Watch his pride in what he's done. Watch him get well faster because he's happier!

Proof!... In the laboratory... In your own flashlight...

"EVEREADY" BATTERIES OUTLAST ALL OTHER BRANDS!

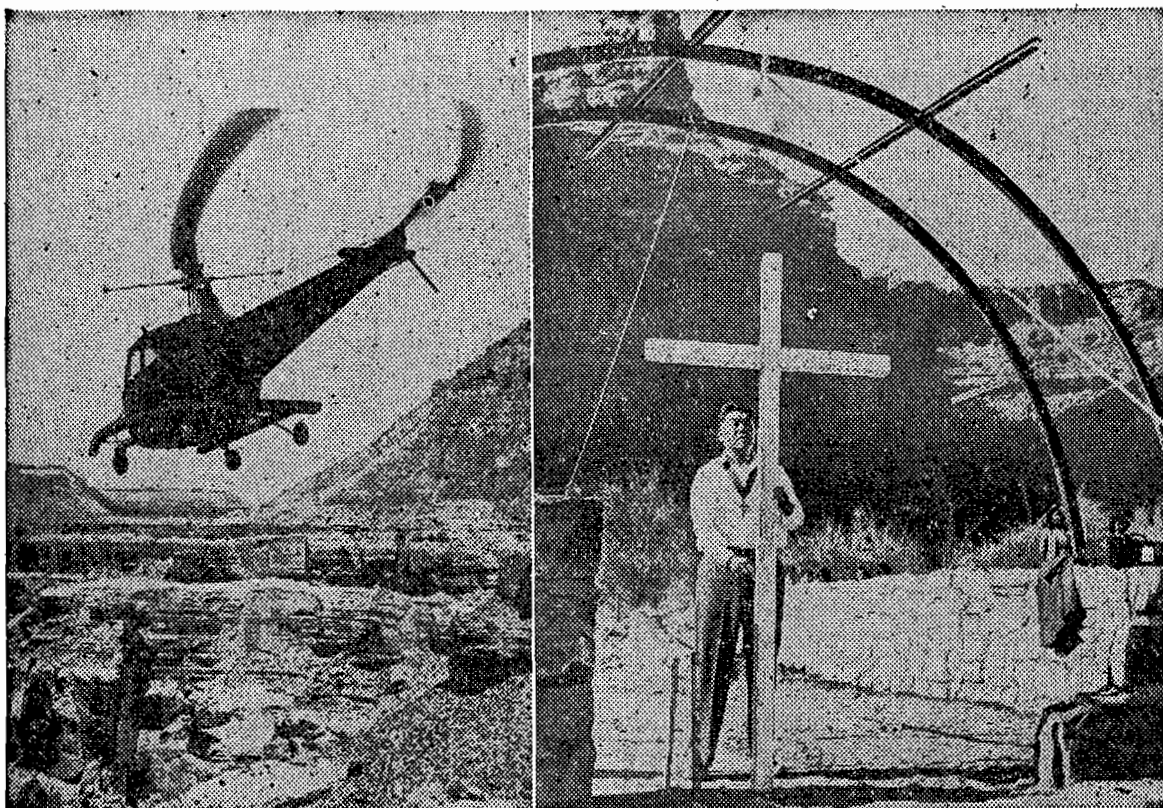

● Brighter light, longer life! That's what you want in a flashlight battery—and that's what you get with "Eveready" brand batteries. Laboratory tests prove it. NO MOUNTAIN TOO HIGH, NO CANYON TOO DEEP...In a remote Havasupai Indian community, Supai Village, Ariz., in the depths of the Grand Canyon, a Protestant Episcopal church is taking form as rapidly as the steel frames and side panels of a large Quonset hut can be set up. The pieces, weighing three tons, were flown down into this fantastic cleft in the 3,000-foot-deep chasm by helicopter. At right, Jim Crook, tribe evangelist, holds the white, wooden cross which will adorn the completed church. A steel corporation donated the Quonset hut to the 250 Indians in the community.

AIRBORNE OATS FOR HUNGRY DEER...It is May, but high in the New York Adirondacks the snow is still deep and in many places it won't melt until later in the month. In these areas herds of deer roam in search of food, which is too deeply buried to be reached by animals. Many have died, but many have been saved, too, by the food flown to them by plane. This humane gesture is sponsored by the Adirondack League club, a non-profit sportsmen's organization. Here Jack McCarthy makes friends with some of the animals who have been tamed by hunger to the point where they are not even afraid of an airplane.

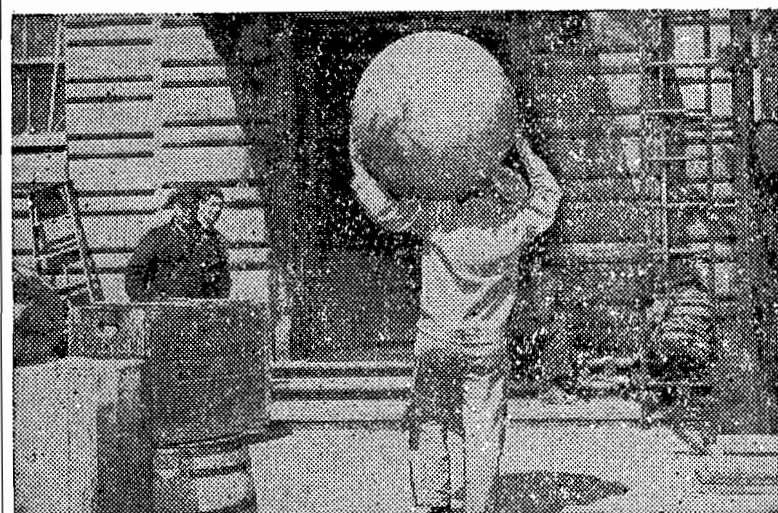

JUST ANOTHER BATTLEGROUND...This is the city of Jerusalem in Palestine, a holy place to Christians, Moslems and Jews alike. Yet Jerusalem today is serving as just another battleground in the struggle between Jews and Arabs for possession of Palestine. Both factions are determined to capture the city for their own. The United Nations, alarmed at the possibility that the storied town might be damaged or destroyed, requested both Arabs and Jews to preserve Jerusalem. Bitterest fighting for control of Palestine was expected to begin when British troops leave the country on May 15. Arab League states, particularly Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah, were massing their military forces for an invasion of the Holy Land.

BOMB TO END ALL BOMBS...Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall (left) cranes his neck to look up in the direction of the tail fins of a giant 43,000-pound bomb which attracted his attention during a visit to Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds. The big bomb recently was given a drop test (unarmed) at Muroc dry lake, Calif., from a converted B-29. With Royall are Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of ordnance, and Maj. Gen. A. D. Quinton, Jr., (right) commanding the proving grounds.

COLUMBIA BASIN SIPHON...Near Adrian, Wash., steel workers weave web of heavy reinforcing bars around which will be poured concrete for Crab creek inverted siphons which will convey Columbia basin irrigation water across Dry Coulee to reclaim eastern Washington sagebrush land. Twenty-five feet in diameter and 4,500 feet long, it will be world's largest monolithic concrete pipeline.

WORLD MOVES TO IKE'S DOOR...All kinds of people have scratched their heads industriously in an effort to find any latent symbolism in this picture of a moving man carrying a globe into the New York home which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife will occupy when he assumes his duties as president of Columbia university. But, withal, it remains just a picture of a man carrying a globe into Ike's new abode.

The blasting of rocks in construction work on the mill dam the huge piles of lumber, stone and sand, the coming and going of heavily laden teams, the medley of sounds from the small army of workmen, the clanking of busy looms, must have been quite bewildering to the occupants of the house in the midst of it. This situation interested the townspeople but occasioned no great wave of sentiment for those concerned. "As stubborn as Wiggins Doe," is a saying that has come down to us through the years, yet there is evidence that Wiggins Doe had little faith in his own ability to hold fast against the odds of the situation and the generous offers of the Company to buy his house. Perhaps the sentiment of the old song, "Whatever brawls start in the street there should be peace at home," may have influenced him for in the late summer of 1823 he deeded his house and land to his daughter Deborah. She stoutly held the domestic citadel for nine years while a canal, sawmill, blacksmith and three large mills, a dam, bridges, machine shops were built, and for twelve hours each day were the very near and noisy neighbors of the Doe household.

Wiggins Doe passed away from this earthly turmoil in 1831 at the age of 73 years. The company renewed its many offers to buy the Doe house and land. Deborah immediately accepted, but under conditions. The Company bought a house that stood across the road in front of the Rundlett Tavern. This they removed to Chapel St. and fitted it for occupancy. Mrs. Doe and Deborah accepted from the Company the rental of one-half of this house. A contract was drawn up and signed by Deborah and the agent, the Company agreeing to pay Deborah five hundred dollars to peacefully remove from the house upon the death of her mother, evidently the life tenancy and the five hundred dollars was the purchase price of the Wiggins Doe house. The agent immediately wrote the Salem office. "What shall we do with the house in the middle of the road?" The answer came, "Make it the office of the Company." The brick oven is still in evidence.

Enlistments in Army Rise

Army enlistments in March were greater than in any month since October 1946 when Selective Service suspended operations. But the 21,960 total for March was only 1,960 above the 20,000 men needed each month by voluntary enlistments to maintain the Army's present strength.

Miss Richardson And Miss Gallagher Visit Mrs. Bateman

Sunday evening one of our friends took Miss Gallagher and myself up to Mrs. Sophie Bateman's home. She has a beautiful place there. Near the house is a small pond and the frogs were singing their heads off. There was one who could trill like a prima donna and some sang in the lower key and then grandfather bull frog would come in with the bass. Mrs. Bateman's pansies are very beautiful and all colors from yellow to deep purple. She has other lovely flowers, too. She has several bird baths and on one side of the house there is a cement bath for the toads and there were several there. Mrs. Bateman says they lay their eggs in the water.

The house is surrounded by green fields and woods. It is very calm and peaceful. It makes one think of what one poet said: "Man made the city, but God made the country."

American Legion Hold Whist Party

The floating prize and also the door prize, Mrs. Helen Burke.

The special prize, which was a cake, was won by Mrs. Martha Turbanville.

VFW Auxiliary . . .

Mrs. Anna Filion was presented the Past President's Pin by the members of the VFW auxiliary at a recent meeting.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the VFW Post, No. 7217, held its meeting Monday evening at the Post Home with President Longa presiding.

Mrs. Rita Cappozza was initiated into the Auxiliary and was presented the pin by the president.

Poppy Day will be Friday, May 14 and let this slogan be, ever in your mind as you are approached by a member of the VFW, Wear a Buddy Poppy. Miss Eleanor Marcelli with her committee, Mrs. Anna Filion, Miss B. Blanchette, Mrs. Genevieve Longa, Mrs. Sarah Gilbert, Miss G. Labrecque will be on hand to distribute the poppies.

Mrs. Anna Filion, Mrs. Aldea Filion and Mrs. Genevieve Longa have been chosen delegates to the convention which is to be held in Berlin in June. Miss Gabriel Labrecque, Miss Stella Romiak and Miss Eleanor Marelli were named as alternates.

No excuse for last week, but more news for this time.

The Sophomore May Day Party, held on May 1st, was a huge success. One of the very welcome guests was Mr. Gil Standish, our boys' coach. He claims that he had a wonderful time, but that his feet were quite sore from all the dancing he had done in that evening. The decorations were all fixed up in pink and blue, with a May Pole in the center of the room, it seemed like summer indoors. There were pupils from Spaulding and St. Ignatius, Sanford, Maine, St. Leo's, Gonic and even some that are out of school. These Sophomores certainly know how to give a party. Another party is planned for May 15th at the Students' Club. This is to be the last one of the year, so, don't miss it. It is being put on by the freshmen, sophomores and juniors. We are trying to make it the best one yet, and hope that it succeeds.

The Glee Club has been quite busy for the past week. It sang for the Confirmation on May 4th, and on May 9th, they sang for the First Holy Communion. During the month of May, the Benediction is sung by them also on Wednesdays and Fridays. They also sang at the Wedding May 8th. They certainly have a busy schedule.

The Cooking and Sewing branches of the Home Economics course is flourishing. All the students, and instructors are as busy as bees making honey. They are going to surprise us pretty soon with all those wonderful cooks and seamstresses they will turn out. They'll be regular wizards.

The President of the Student's Club gave the girls serving the tables at the club, during dinner hour, a banquet on Friday, the 7th, of this month. The girls were Justine Lacasse, Lillian Smith, Annette Paquin, Madge Gauthier, Madge Levesque, Madge Roy, and Irene Lanoie. They certainly had a wonderful feed. MMM, did it look delicious, and by the way those dishes were cleared, it certainly was. Dube certainly knows how to keep the help happy.

A large box of chocolates was given away by the Sophomores last week. Madge Gauthier was the lucky winner. She was smart, she didn't open it in school. That poor box of Chocolates, if she had. She claims that she gave it to her mother for Mother's Day. We wonder....

That Flag Day Essay Contest is coming up soon, but the students of HRH are all prepared for it. Every single one of the pupils have written one. They are waiting expectantly to see the outcome.

The Seniors left us on Mother's Day, and have started on their Class Trip. Below is the schedule.

May 15. Leave New York City, Capital Bus Terminal, 245 West 50th Street, for Boston at 10:00 A. M. Arrive Boston at 6:25 P. M. Here's hoping they have as good a time as their schedule seems to contain. Don't you wish you were they?

The Mother and Daughter's Banquet held at the Holy Rosary Auditorium on May 9th, was one of the best ever to be put on yet in this Parish, and incidentally, it was the men of the Catholic Parent Association who prepared it. Boy, they really can cook. We had mashed potatoes, chicken fricasee, peas, cranberry sauce, fruit cocktail, coffee and cake. It really was delicious. It certainly was wonderful to see such cooperation from these men. After the meal, Father Dufour from Farmington who spoke on Mother's day, and Father Halde, who also spoke. Immediately after, there were movies held. They were about Old Fashioned Grandma. It was a riot to see the styles of them, and those of nowadays. Many pupils from the school brought their mothers and it really was grand to see them.

Well, in hopes of seeing you at the party Saturday night, so long.

WILD SIXTH GIVES HRH FIRST WIN 7-3 OVER AUSTIN-CATE

Coming up with five big runs in home on a passed ball. Blanchette a wild sixth inning on one hit, five walks, four wild pitches, two passed balls, two errors and four stolen bases, Holy Rosary High won its first game of the year yesterday trimming Austin-Cate at Cold Spring Park, 7-3.

Buddy French, A. C. pitcher, was fast but wild, he allowed only two hits, struck out 12 but walked nine and committed five wild pitches. Larochelle, Coach Gil Standish's mound choice, fanned 14 batters, only granted two passes and was nicked for 6 hits and three runs.

Austin-Cate scored twice in the opening frame, on a single, double, two passed balls and an error.

The locals came back to tie the score in the second. Larochelle walked, went to second on a passed ball and came in on Louis Levesque's bingle to right field. Levesque came around when he stole second, went to the far corner as Gravel grounded out and scored as the catcher threw over the third baseman's head trying to pick him off third.

A. C. took a lead once again in the third on a walk and two singles.

Things looked black for the locals until in the big sixth everybody went wild. After Levesque went out Gravel walked and scored when French succeeded in throwing three wild pitches in a row. That tied it up. Rainville walked after Laurion fanned, stole second, went to third as Therrien got HRHS second hit, and came home on a passed ball, Therrien moving to second; he scored on a wild pitch and an error by the third sacker. Marcotte picked up the fourth free pass of the inning and he came around to score as he stole second and third and trotted completed the parade by working French for a pass and coming around on a stolen base and an error by the short stop.

Nearly all of our beautiful pine woodland has been cut off, in the town of Lebanon, leaving unsightly fire traps in their stead, the many beautiful picturesque spots that were in our woodlands are now nothing but fire destructive underbrush.

It is too bad there is no law making each owner clean off their wood lots so there would be no recurrence of last fall's horrible fires which would not spread as rapidly if the underbrush was destroyed as a preventative.

A few years ago most of the lots were partly cleaned out by the cutting and selling of pine limbs, now it is used for nothing only as fire traps.

Facts About Korea

Korea, situated on a peninsula about 600 miles long poking out from Asia between the Yellow sea and the Sea of Japan, is about the size of Minnesota. Over the centuries it belonged, sometimes to China and sometimes to Japan. It emerged from World War II under Russian and U. S. occupation but with the promise that it would receive independence in "due course." Korea's prewar foreign trade was linked closely with that of Japan. Major exports were rice, fertilizer, cotton cloth, soybeans and raw silk. Major imports included machinery and instruments, silk, cloth, coal, timber and paper.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

PROPOS THE CURRENT ROW between the air forces and the army-navy, it is interesting to recall that in 1940 the army asked congress for only six Flying Fortresses. This was one year after war broke in Europe, yet the army still didn't see the need of planes.

And had it not been for Congressman Ross Collins of Mississippi who demanded more planes, the army would have been worse prepared than it was.

Today, President Truman—an ex-artilleryman—is siding with Secretary Forrestal's navy and ground forces, while congress—as in 1940—is siding with the air force.

Backstage battling between Forrestal and Air Secretary Symington has been even more vitriolic than most people realize. Here is part of the repartee during a locked-door session of the senate armed services committee between the air secretary and the man who is supposed to be his boss:

SYMINGTON — "The air force for three years has said it needed the 70-group program in peacetime and it has never deviated because of the strategic aspect of the 70 groups." We asked this year what we asked for in 1947 and 1948."

FORRESTAL—"You have to exercise some judgment between extremes. There is a middle ground for judgment which, as I say, I have to rely on the joint chiefs of staff to furnish me with, and they are going to have a very hard wrestling match to do it."

In addition to the 70 regular groups, the air force is asking for 27 groups for air national guard, 34 groups for air reserve, 22 squadrons for such activities as reconnaissance, air weather and air communications. The increase from 55 to 70 groups will mean a corresponding increase from 364,000 to 453,000 men by the end of 1949.

If the 70-group program is approved, the air force plans on adding 1,512 airplanes in fiscal year 1949. The big increase would be in bomber strength. Under the 55-group program, the air force would be limited to 480 bombers; under the 70-group program, this would be increased to 720 bombers.

Appeasement is taking a lacing... Our diplomats have planted wet kisses all over Peron's two faces, and what did they reap? At the Pan-American huddle in Bogota, Argentina has been attempting to gum up the works by whizzing monkey-wrenches. The other day Peron's mouthpieces denounced proposals for inter-American collective action—against communism! In other words Fascist Peron wants to make it easier for Communists to continue crawling, and the state department's excuse for embracing Argentina was that it would help us stop the spread of communism. The difference between a Nazi, a Fascist and a Communist is the difference between a skunk, a snake and a rat.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

U. S. Unites Against Commies

THE ranks of those who fight the Communists as traitorous conspirators against the United States now are enlarged by thousands of joiners. Most of these recruits are sincere Americans who were either apathetic or deceived by political agents who told them that Roosevelt was a great spiritual leader, beset by Red-baiters.

The new opponents of the Communist conspiracy also include, however, many yellow individuals, who used to run with the Reds because Roosevelt did. Among them are some demagogues of the radio and the malicious politico-underworld streak in our journalism, some teachers and preachers, and a few show-offs who gratified their vanity by political advertisements published as "a public service."

We have heard a brave patriot defying Josef Stalin single-handed who didn't realize that communism was an enemy until the last dirty dollar had been wrung out of the Roosevelt idolatry. We have seen

At Bradley's one night a diplomat, just back from Washington said: "The state department is running our Middle East with a firm hand."

"Zatzo?" snapped Ted Mack. "What's the name of the firm—Standard Oil?"

Sounds in the Night: At Eddie Condon's: "She's one of the zeros in society's 400" . . . At the Penthouse: "Love is what has you coming and going nuts!" . . . At Garrison's: "She has a darling disposition." . . . In the Stork: "He handed her his usual routine."

John Barrymore (once called John Barleycorn) was appearing in a flop play. The critics devastated it and him. He came to the second performance cold sober. "I told you," roared the producer, "not to show up drunk!" "If I wasn't," he said, "do you think I'd show up?"

an advertisement boldly damning Soviet Russia for the capture of Czechoslovakia published by a hitchhiker on the crowded bandwagon who not so long ago was abusing American soldiers in Germany, veterans of the war, for perceiving that Russia was the enemy.

REAL OPPOSITION TO THE COMMUNISTS NEVER HAS BEEN PLEASANT EXCEPT TO THOSE WITH A BELLY FOR A FIGHT. The smears were vile. Thoughtless, emotional millions with low intelligence were tickled to sneering mirth by coarse gags at the expense of decent citizens.

Franklin D. Roosevelt granted diplomatic recognition to Soviet Russia, the enemy of today, and gave every aid and comfort to communism in the United States as well as in Europe. By the very terms of that recognition, Russia admitted that she had interfered in the domestic affairs of the United States. Roosevelt and his wife also gave aid and comfort to the Communists in the union movement in our country in return for campaign funds, votes and organization.

SHS CAPTURES MEET IN FINAL EVENT; NEW RECORDS SET; MOONEY LEADS SHS SCORING

Capturing 6 firsts, 4 seconds, 5 thirds and 1 last place, the Spaulding-high school track team won the 1948 SENH track and field meet held at the SHS athletic field last Saturday afternoon. Spaulding scored 54 points, Laconia 51, Dover 44 and Somersworth 4.

The Lylis-Mooney coached team came through with second place in the final event the half mile relay to win the meet.

Dick Mooney of SHS was the leading scorer with 13 points he placed second in the 120 high hurdles and first in the broad and high jumps. Hollis Furlong picked up 10 points gaining a first in the shot put, a second in the javelin and a third in the discus. Dick Desmarais was third high scorer with 8 points, winning the 220 yard dash and coming in second in the 100 yard dash. Barisano on the javelin, Jim Upham took the 880.

Several new records were set with local participants having a hand in them. Hap Barisano's 154 ft., 9 in. in the javelin throw-bested the record of 151 feet set by Dick O'Brien of Portsmouth in 1947.

Hollis Furlong, SHS, set his own shot put mark of 2 ft. 6 in, set in the 1947 meet by 4 feet.

Lacroix of Laconia tossed the discus 140 ft. 5 in. to top his own SENH meet mark set last year of 122 ft. 6 in.

Paul Drouin bettered the pole vault mark by a foot as he hit 16 ft. 6 in. The old mark was held by Caswell of Portsmouth set in 1947 9 ft. 6 in.

Dick Mooney was presented with a trophy by the Lions club for being the highest scorer for the Spaulding team, with 13 points.

Furlong was next with 10 points. SHS also captured the Lions trophy for winning the meet. It was presented to coaches Lylis and Mooney by Mitchell Scala.

BIG FIFTH GIVES CENTRAL WIN OVER SHS

Spaulding high school's baseball team dropped its second straight game last Wednesday afternoon to Manchester Central, 10-4.

The Herman men jumped off to a two run lead in the first two innings. In the first, Arlin led off with a walk, went to second on a passed ball, moved to third while Poire grounded out pitcher to first and scored as Jim Beckingham bounced to the second baseman.

In the second frame, Trask reached when the second baseman couldn't find the handle on his ground ball, stayed there while teammates Randall and Mireault flied out, moved to the middle sack as Collette walked, then pitcher Frank Cox helped his own cause when he banded a ground single to right field, but Arlin struck out to end the rally.

Things were going along fine until the fifth when the Central boys began to tee off. After the pitcher fanned everything went wrong; Cramer slashed a double to left center, Vlangas singled, Adams singled, Durand, Camberis walked to send Cox to the showers. Russ came on to walk Theodore, Wiles gave Gikas one to good and he belted it to center field for a triple clearing the sacks; he came home a moment later when Arlin's throw went through Mireault at third.

SHS got a short lived rally going in their half of the seventh, Walsh batted for Welch (who pitched hitless ball against the visitors in the top half of the seventh) and worked his way for a pass. Bob Arlin hit Gazda's second pitch to deep centerfield for a homer to account for the final two Spaulding runs. O'Brien fanned for the second out but Gilman kept local hopes alive with a belt to center field but Trask struck out to end the game.

N. H. SCHOOLBOY BASEBALL TOURNAMENT PLANNED IN JUNE

Plans for the first annual Granite State interscholastic sponsored baseball tournament, invitationed by the New Hampshire Athletic association, were announced today by Fred G. Walker of Dover, chairman of the organization's baseball committee.

The tourney, which is expected to create as much interest as the yearly hoop tournaments, will be staged on Friday and Saturday, June 11 and 12, at a site to be announced at a later date.

Semi-final games of seven-inning duration will be held at 3:30 and 5 p. m., June 11. The consolation game, another seven-innings affair, will be played at 1:30 p. m. on June 12 and will be followed at 3 o'clock with the regulation nine-inning final setto.

A geographical setup has been arranged to determine the qualifiers for the four playoff berths. Our regions have been selected as follows: Region 1, Carroll and Coos; Grafton and Carroll counties; Region 2, Sullivan and Cheshire counties; Region 3, Merrimack and Hillsborough counties, and Region 4, Belknap, Strafford and Rockingham counties.

All members of the NHAA who are sponsoring teams this spring are eligible to compete for a playoff berth. There are, however, no classifications such as existed in the association's basketball setup. It will be an open invitational affair and teams now playing their schedules are automatically determining their status within their respective regions. The records of the teams within their own regions will be the determining factor in selections.

Regional commissioners have been appointed to handle all routine matters that might come up during the regular season and to arrange for playoffs in their regions. Commissioners are the following: James O'Connor, Haverhill academy, Region 1; Edward Hanna, Keene, and Jack Barry, Newport, Region 2; Eugene Callahan, Concord and Walter Tafe, Manchester, Region 3, and Muel Messersmith, Portsmouth, and Fred Walker, Dover, Region 4.

Teams must forward their schedules to the committee chairman by June 1. Scores of the individual games must be included. Games played on May 31 must be reported by phone to Dover 2264-W.

The committee has the authority to order teams to play off within the region if the records of the teams involved warrant such consideration.

If playoffs are necessary to determine regional representatives, they will be held on June 4 or June 5 at a site designated by the commissioner of that region.

Inasmuch as this is the first attempt to conduct such a tourney, the tournament committee is asking the competing teams to defray their own expenses while engaged in tourney play. However, after all expenses in operating the tourney have been paid, the committee will see to it that reimbursements are made in part, if not in full. The same rates that prevailed in the basketball setup can be counted upon as a criteria.

Team awards will be made to the winner, runnerup and consolationist in the forms of plaques.

Assisting Walker on the baseball committee are O'Connor, Barry, Messersmith, Callahan, Hanna and Walter Mirey, Raymond.

A Week at N.H.S.

BY CAROLYN CHAREST

Many of Mrs. Hibbard's typing students received the Gregg Writer for accomplishment in short hand and typing last week. The writer is in the form of a leaflet in which the girls may keep their records. Those who received them were Joan York, Shirley Walker, Claire Labranche, Anne Piecuch and Lucille Hamel.

The sophomores have ordered their class rings and are hurrying to put their deposits on them. Bring your money in as soon as possible.

Miss Riley has given her Junior English class a short story assignment for Friday. They may be humorous, dramatic and murder but must be written in the students best ability.

Last Friday five nurses from the Concord hospital spoke about nursing in the future and nursing as a vocation. They are holding Open House May 12th and have invited all girls interested in nursing to visit the hospital.

Aristotle Bouras recently won a $50 bond for his writing of a theme about the improving of unhealthful sites in the home town. Aristotle won second prize and has shown much ability in writing. Congratulations Tottle.

The seniors belonging to the Hon or Society will be inducted May 20th into the society. They are looking forward to this and are very proud to have the honor of doing so.

The students of NHS filed from the building last Monday in fast time for a fire drill.

A representative from the United States Marine Corps spoke to the boys last Tuesday about their future in the Marine Corps. Many questions were asked and problems were cleared up.

Mr. Foster gave the Junior History class a short theme to write last week. The themes were to be on Woodrow Wilson or Theodore Roosevelt or the comparison of these two presidents.

The students of NHS were dismissed at 12 o'clock today, Thursday, to enable the teachers to meet in Exeter for luncheon and a meeting.

The boys' baseball team have won their first game, which was with Somersworth. The score was Newmarket 4, Somersworth 1. The boys look wonderful and are playing very well. The game with Exeter was postponed Friday because of rain and again postponed Monday for the same reason.

Many students have been asking why were the boys measuring the rooms and the school. Here is the explanation. Mr. Holmes has been teaching his eighth grade math class how to draw up blue prints and I understand they are doing very well.

Mrs. Raymond assigned to her juniors and seniors of the Home class in which they may keep their sewing.

Glee Club was called off Monday because the piano tuner was tuning the piano. The regular meeting was held on Tuesday. May 5th the girls met to practice the graduation pieces.

The girls' softball team played Robinson Female Seminary of Exeter girls last week. The score was Exeter, 40; Newmarket, 12.

The senior boys were measured for their caps and gowns last Thursday.

Miss Riley's Sophomore English class have been enjoying Julius Caesar on records. These records are a great aid to the student for he may follow his book and the story is made more clear.

WASHINGTON DIGEST

Case of the Big Welcome Committee, Or Misleading German Propaganda

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—Last month there was a memorandum on my desk from the department of the army addressed to "all former war correspondents, subject: Army Day, 1948." It suggested that perhaps I had a war story that stood out in my mind that I would like to relate as an Army Day feature. The memorandum didn't state which war was preferred, if any, but I supposed that it didn't matter so long as it wasn't the next one.

I reported the landing on the Normandy beaches, the Battle of the Bulge and many of the other important events of the last war—from a microphone in Washington; my connection with World War I was less vicarious; my experiences during earlier conflicts such as San Juan, Gettysburg, Chapultepec, Yorktown and Hastings are a little hazy.

Therefore I decided that the department of the army might permit me to relate an adventure which provided a little comedy relief in 1939, in the nervous interlude, known as the "phony war," before the real storm broke. It went something like this:

It happened at Wesermuende, the German air and naval base, shortly after Britain and France had declared war on Germany. American correspondents still had considerable freedom, and I had managed to wrangle permission to interview the first British fliers shot down by the Germans. I did, but that isn't this story.

For all the careful German preparations for war, there was still a certain amount of confusion in the office of propaganda under the highly efficient father of lies, Dr. Goebbels, but I managed to get the use of a German army transport plane to fly me (with a German radio man) from Berlin to Wesermuende.

The war was roaring westward. Into Poland and the great Tempelhof airfield in Berlin was all but deserted when we arrived before dawn and were escorted with alacrity, and not a little wonderment, to our transport which already was warming up. We had been up all night and my colleague immediately fell asleep on a pile of parachute equipment. As soon as dawn broke, I busied myself watching the anti-aircraft batteries in the fields surrounding Berlin, gun pits in fields surrounded by complacent, cud-chewing cows who were, like the rest of the bemused population, unaware of what the Fuehrer was about to bring down on them.

For some reason we flew low, almost scratching our wings on the church steeples. At last my companion awoke. We were approaching the airfield. It was a lively spot. As we drew nearer, we could see a detachment of marines which came to attention as we approached. A half dozen staff cars were drawn up in a semi-circle, balanced by blue-jackets and ground personnel of the air force.

"We're lucky," my companion remarked, "some big brass must be coming, we'll see a parade." No other plane was visible though, as we circled a couple of times over the docks, thick with ships including the long-lost Europa, back on her dash from Murmansk. Finally we landed a couple of yards from the military formation which by now was drawn up at attention. We were a little embarrassed, for we were in plain sight of the imposing array, and were afraid we might suddenly bump into the visiting dignitary—and we were hatless and unshaven. I let my companion go ahead. There was no place to go, however, but in the direction of the naval detachment and their commanding officer. It later developed he was the commander of the base, a tall, slim, correct naval officer, perhaps a little nervous, though we were too nervous ourselves to realize it at the moment.

We advanced, like pups approaching a porcupine. A command rang out. The troops snapped to present arms, the officer saluted and drew a manuscript from his tunic, something new to me in military procedure—all I could think of was a painting of General Washington reading a message to his troops (and I always had thought that was a flight of the artist's fancy).

The officer began reading—it was a message of welcome all right. Finally, my companion (he was half-English, which may explain his fortitude) interrupted: "There must be some mistake. We are two radio correspondents."

The commander bowed, looked abashed, glanced over our heads toward the plane.

"But where are the other gentlemen?" he wanted to know.

"There are just two of us," we replied.

"But the minister of propaganda? Who is representing him? We were notified by the department—a special plane—the truck for the baggage—"

We explained briefly, and waited for the skies to fall. They didn't. The officer continued his speech without even dropping his monocle—just to be sure—editing it slightly to make it apply as he went. There was no question that he thought we were going to be, certainly OUGHT to be Goebbels.

The formation melted away, the truck which had been requested to transport sound equipment started to load, all but one of the staff cars slunk away. There was only one red face, the airforce commander's, and he felt not embarrassment, but rage. This was a purely military field and I had held up the German war effort for half a morning, thus contributing my bit to Allied victory even before America was in the war.

For the rest, the only significant memory, except for my interview with those British boys, was the questioning by the German officers. Obviously they didn't share the complacent assurance of victory of the Nazi higher-ups—they remembered World War I.

Today the greatest danger to the peace is the possibility that the will, the purpose, the power of the United States will not be understood in time by the Russian command—that they will fail to recognize the risk of self-annihilation they are taking in their "cold war," as the Kaiser and Hitler failed to realize it.

Roses, But Never A Spray of Yew

There are many good garden books, and I for one had about come to the conclusion that the final word on gardening had been written, when along came the Woman's Home Companion Garden Book (P. F. Collier and Son corporation, publisher, New York City) with many new angles. Edited by John C. Wister, director of the Arthur Hoyt Scott horticultural foundation, Swarthmore college, this book speaks with authority.

"It is correct," it states on page 472, "to speak of narcissus, and also correct to use the English term daffodil for all species and varieties of narcissus. There is confusion about this, a popular impression being that daffodils are the yellow kind, and narcissus the white kinds. There also has been confusion about the name, jonquil. All the daffodils of the jonquil group are distinguished by their narrow, garlic-like foliage and by their characteristic bright yellow color, which is the same shade throughout the flower."

All of this interested me mightily as I had just been studying a photograph of a clump of narcissus in a popular magazine's "name this picture" contest. The leaves on the plant shown were broad, though the answer given by the editor was "jonquil." Obviously, even contest editors may err.

The narcissus discussion is a sample of Editor Wister's directness in this new garden book and there is more like it on every page.

Not the least interesting writing in this book is the foreword by the well-loved Liberty Hyde Bailey, dean of all gardeners, whose accomplishments need no eulogy here.

Another intriguing feature is the discussion and diagramming of various geographic areas according to their geological and climatic conditions. Most of us have been frost-bitten too often for comfort by blindly following the usual maps.

It would be unfair to other excellent books to say that this is the best garden book yet published. In some ways it excels all others, but still there are other volumes which may contain more information on specific subjects.

Perhaps the way to size up this 1,000-page volume is to say that regardless of whatever other gardening books you own, you need this one too if you seek fresh angles on your favorite hobby.

With its fine cover and paper stock, its 24 photographic pages in full color, its 56 pages of black and white illustrations and more than 100 how-to-do-it pictures, the Woman's Home Companion Garden Book is completely satisfying.
