LOCAL COUPLE CELEBRATE 43RD WEDDING ANNIV.

A surprise party was given Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. George LaBranche of South street by some of their children in honor of their 43rd wedding anniversary at the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaBranche of Elder St. The couple were presented with a lovely anniversary cake and a purse of money. Children from Willimantic and Newmarket were present. Refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

LOCAL COUPLE OBSERVES SILVER WEDDING ANNIV.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Loughlin of Exeter street observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary last Saturday night, November 27, at Eagles Hall. Their son, Mr. Robert Loughlin, Mrs. Loughlin had charge of the affair. Rudy Labranche was master of ceremonies.

The room was tastefully decorated in white and silver. A buffet lunch was served and on the wall over the table was a long white ribbon, on the ends of which were the figures 25 in silver and in the center of this ribbon was a larger 25 in silver. In the center of the table was a large silver and white anniversary cake. Each guest received a small blue ribbon, with the figure 25 in silver on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Loughlin received many beautiful gifts and presents of money, most of which was in silver. Dick Labranche sent a beautiful silver and white basket of fruit and other good things, tied with a silver ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Francois Morin, and Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh were in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Loughlin. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh stood up with Mr. and Mrs. Loughlin when they were married twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. Loughlin was dressed in a light blue silk moire taffeta, with a flare skirt and scalloped neck. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The music consisted of Mary Gordon piano, Ozzie Jolie saxophone and a young man from Somersworth played the drums. A grand march was formed after which there was dancing.

There were about 200 present, including guests from Durham, Epping, Dover, Exeter, Kittery, Portsmouth, Rye, Rochester, Portland and even California as well as Newmarket.

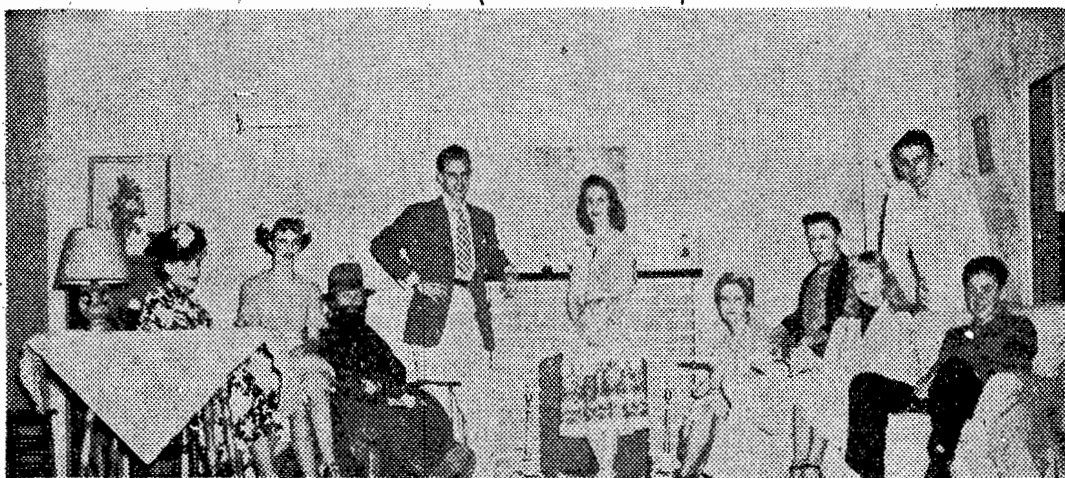

This was one of the best anniversaries ever held in Newmarket.

We wish our friends Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Loughlin much happiness in the years to come and hope that their 50th anniversary will be as good if possible, as this one.

We had hoped to have some pictures of this anniversary but could not get them printed in time, but watch the next issue of the News December 9, and you will find them. Our photographer, Frank Micucci took them.

Three out of every four acres of this year's United States corn crop were planted with hybrid seed, the highest proportion in history.

NEWMARKET HIGH SENIORS PRESENT PLAY

BOOMA LEGION OF PORTSMOUTH IS HOST TO DISTRICT NO. 3

Some of our Newmarket Legion members attended the meeting of the Frank E. Booma Legion in Legion Hall, Portsmouth, Saturday night. The Booma legion was host to District No. 3. The meeting was conducted by District Commander Richard Varney, who was attended by Department Commander Larry Walker, Department Vice Commander Robert Flewelling and Dept. Judge Advocate Edmund Jacobson.

Representatives were present from the Legion posts of Dover, Rochester, Farmington, Milton, Salmon Falls, Newfields and Hampton.

A buffet lunch was served at the end of the session.

Frank E. Booma unit, AL, was host at a meeting of District 3 auxiliaries held in Legion hall.

Mrs. Madeline Glades of Manchester, past department president and department rehabilitation chairman, was the principal speaker. She told of rehabilitation work to be done with veterans and infantile paralysis. Mrs. Larry Walker, wife of the department commander, was also a guest.

Mrs. John E. O'Brien, first vice president of Booma unit, gave the welcome in the absence of Mrs. Gertrude Mills, president.

Representatives of Newmarket unit were present at this meeting.

LEGION HOLDS WHIST PARTY

Ladies' first prize won by Mrs. Helen Demers; second, Mrs. Ralph Willey; consolation, Miss Helen Clements.

Men's first prize won by William Murphy; second, Al Price; consolation, Justin C. Renner; floating prize, Harry Silver; door prize, Bernie Blanchette; special prize, Gerard Boisvert.

The next whist party will be on December 3, and the next regular meeting of the post will be December 6.

The drive for new members for 1949 is progressing. About 40 per cent have paid their dues.

HILTON IS PRESIDENT NEWMARKET NEMPA

The annual meeting of the Newmarket local of NTMPA, was held November 15 at Eagles hall here. Officers elected were: Richard S. Hilton, president; Fred E. Doe, secretary; Arthur C. Provost, delegate to the Boston annual meeting; Herman G. Hauschel, Haverhill sales committee and Stephen B. Kleczek, Portsmouth sales committee.

Mr. Provost gave a complete report of the past annual meeting at Boston. Mr. Hauschel reviewed the activities of the Haverhill sales committee the past year.

John S. Adams spoke about the new pricing formula and S. F. McQuesten gave a brief report on the plant at Andover. Harrison Davis, field man at Andover, spoke. Movies were shown followed by an oyster supper.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON DOVER ROAD

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Walker of Lee road were riding along in their car last Saturday when all of a sudden a car coming from the other direction and in back of another car, shot out and before Mr. Walker could pull his car out of the way, shot into it, knocking Mrs. Walker through the windshield and banging Mr. Walker against the side. Miss Joyce Allen, who was riding with them was badly bruised.

The car which ran into them was operated by Clarence Wilson of Sanford.

Although badly bruised and bumped, the occupants of Mr. Walker's car did not require hospital care but the doctor has been coming to check up on them every day and Mrs. Walker is having an Ex-ray taken of her hip as it has begun to pain her.

But you should see the car, that needs hospital care all right.

This accident happened while they were going up the hill near the old Hamel place and near where Clint Ellison used to live.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA

The Rev. Arnold A. Brown, pastor of the Community church in Durham, has resigned his post and will begin his new duties in San Bernardino, Calif., Feb. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will leave for their new home the middle of January. They have two children, Bonnie Jean, four years and Baird, two.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. Brown attended Westchester Teachers college in Pennsylvania before studying for the ministry at Maryville college in Maryville, Tenn., and Yale Divinity school in New Haven, Conn. He served as pastor of the Walpole Congregational church for five years and the First Congregational church in Belmont, Mass., for two years before moving to Durham in May, 1945.

MRS. PAZDON GIVEN SURPRISE SHOWER

A surprise stork shower was given to Mrs. Sophie Pazdon Friday night by her mother, Mrs. John Piecuch and assisted by Miss Ann Piecuch, Mrs. Lena Piecuch, Mrs. Albert Piecuch and Miss Clara Malek. The room was gaily decorated with pink, blue and white strips of crepe paper. Mrs. Pazdon received many lovely gifts including a crib by the family and a beautiful christening dress from the employees of the office of the Royce Shoe Co. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those attending were Mrs. Pauline St. Laurent, Mrs. Sophie Homiak, Mrs. Tillie Gazda, Mrs. Toni Malek, Mrs. Michael Ross, Mrs. Catherine Wayne, Mrs. Julia Gonet, Mrs. Laydra Shina, Mrs. Annie Pazdon, Miss Jennie Pazdon, Mrs. Mary Pepek, Mrs. Celia Bryan, Mrs. Nellie Kruczek, Mrs. Mary Kruczek, Miss Stella Homiak, Mrs. George Homiak, Mrs. Annie Bresdeski, Mrs. Freda Bresdeski, Mrs. Mary Kush, Miss Tina Cohen, Mrs. Theresa Boisvert, Mrs. Mary Dutka, Mrs. Nora Sewall, Mrs. Florence Malek, Mrs. Mary Wiernasz, Miss Marcia Ryan, Mrs. Doris Paradise, Mrs. Ingrid Randall, Mrs. Pauline Polchopek, Mrs. Mary Hodsdon, Mrs. Bertha Kustra, Mrs. Mary Porter, Misses Walina and Adeline Polchopek, Mrs. Helen Polchopek, Mrs. Lucy Olonski, Miss Dot Laecki, Mrs. Helen Cassano, Miss Dorothy Shina and Miss Beatrice Morin.

From out of town Miss Margie French, Mrs. Frances Blancato, Mrs. Elsie Strout and Mrs. Nellie Smith of Exeter; Mrs. Florence Stapleford of Stratham; Miss Florence Bonenfant of Epping and Mrs. Nellie Levesque of Dover.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Joan Kustra, Mrs. Helen Demers, Florence Lord Natalie Fernald, Mrs. Stanley Wierasz and Mrs. Victoria Kustra.

PET DOGS USED FOR TARGET PRACTICE

A number of pet dogs have been shot at and killed this year. When a pet dog is used for target practice it is time something is done about it. These pets are shot at then dumped into a swamp either dead or left to die. The latest is believed to be an eight year old pet dog of the Sullivan family on Beech street, as shots were heard by the owner and the cry of a dog.

Since then no more has been seen or heard from their pet. It's dogs now but maybe it will be human beings next if this isn't ended now. Drastic action will be taken by owners when the guilty party or parties are found. Boys without parents alone, found with a gun should lost them to the police. The Fleming family lost their dog by some one shooting it also the Foley family. Maybe yours is next.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR A. J. CROOKER

Funeral services for Andrew J. Crooker, 34, headmaster of Newmarket high school, were held Monday morning at St. Mary's church. Mr. Crooker died Saturday morning after a long illness. Stores were closed during the services and schools dismissed classes to allow the children to form a guard of honor at the church.

The Rev. Adelard Halde, pastor of St. Mary's church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Felix Reczek, OSM of Campton, Mass., as deacon and the Rev. Joseph Desmond, assistant pastor at St. Mary's as sub deacon.

Included in the attendance were Selectmen Walter A. Gillis, F. Albert Sewall, Arthur Beauchesne and J. Bartlett Griffin, Mrs. Kathryn Rodrigues and John Jordan, members of the Newmarket school board.

Interment was in Hillsboro.

Headmaster at Newmarket for the past four years, Mr. Crooker was born in Peterboro, the son of Andrew J. and Lizzie (Travis) Crooker. He attended Hillsboro schools and was graduated from Keene Teachers' college.

He previously had taught in Oxford High school and Pinkerton academy, Derry, and in Laconia. He was a member of the Sons of Veterans in Hillsboro, the Southeastern Headmasters' association and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jeannette (Diotti) Crooker; two sons, Andrew and Richard Crooker of Newmarket; three brothers, David of Peterboro, Norman of East Longmeadow, Mass., and Robert Crooker of Hillsboro and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crooker, also of Hillsboro.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to his bereaved family, but we know that God is Love and that our friend is happy in Heaven, where there is no pain or suffering only peace and joy.

Mr. Crooker was a loving father and husband, a true friend, a kind neighbor and above all, a Christian gentleman.

The bearers were his three brothers, David, Norman and Robert Crooker, and two brothers of Mrs. Crooker, Rene and Marcel Diotte and Walter Foster.

He was buried in St. Mary's cemetery, Hillsboro, with committal prayers by Rev. Lancelot Quinn.

MILITARY RITES HELD FOR PFC. HECTOR BRUNEAU

Military rites were held for Pfc. Hector Bruneau, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bruneau of Exeter. The body arrived Tuesday morning from Europe. Pfc. Bruneau was killed in Northern Italy April 15, 1945. He enlisted at Fort Devens Jan. 2, 1943. He was a member of the mountain division.

Private Bruneau was born in Newmarket, March 15, 1921. His mother is the former Donaldia Latour.

Besides his parents he leaves his remarried widow, Mrs. Rita A. Gallagher of Attleboro, Mass.; a daughter, Janet; two brothers, Lionel and Marcel; two sisters, Mrs. Madeline Morrisette and Miss Eliza Bruneau and two step brothers Rene and Ernest Gervais, all of Exeter and a step sister, Mrs. Marina Browning of Kittery.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Resists U. N. Pressure to Solve Berlin Trouble; Farmers Slated to Get Priority in Coming Legislation

EDITOR'S NOTE — When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union news analysts, and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Sore point in all the Berlin controversy continued to be the Soviet blockade of the ex-Reich capital. The Big Three Western powers still blamed Russia for continuation of the crisis through perpetuating the blockade, and President Harry Truman had given emphatic evidence that he planned no further discussions with Russia on the subject until the blockade was lifted.

Following his return from a Florida vacation, the President went into a full-dress review of American foreign policy with Secretary of State Marshall and W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador-at-large in Europe.

The gravity with which United Nations leaders viewed the Berlin situation was evidenced in the efforts of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, and H. V. Evatt, general assembly president.

THESE TWO made urgent appeal to chief executives of the four big powers—going over the heads of these nations' U. N. delegations to do so—to bring the Berlin dispute to an end and thus bring about world peace.

This appeal was without avail. The United States, France and England said "no," politely, but firmly. They declared the issue must remain in the hands of the U. N. security council until the Russian blockade is lifted. Russia reacted as usual, blaming the Western powers for the stalemate.

Evatt and Lie argued that the dispute cannot be settled within the cramped confines of the security council and should be aired in the wider fields of the general assembly.

AGGRAVATING the situation was the coming winter with its consequent obstacles to the air lift. The Russians appeared content to wait out this phase of American aid to Germany in the apparent conviction, or hope, that bad weather would so impair air lift efficacy as to make it negative in the battle for Germany.

If the situation were to be resolved by diplomatic means, American thought and procedure on the question would carry top weight with the Big Three.

PRIORITY: For Farmers

The man with the hoe put the "X" where it counted November 2, and, as a result, America's farmers are to reap a share of President Truman's smashing victory at the polls.

Even now, administration chiefs are moving to give the nation's farmers top priority over labor in any legislative program coming up for action by the next congress.

THE FARMER'S reward is to come immediately—not in the future—and the outlook is that labor may have to stand behind the farmer when awards for a part in President Truman's triumph are to be handed out in a legislative program.

Best friend of the farmers when the plums are to be passed around is Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan. No doubter of where credit for Mr. Truman's victory belongs, Brannan already has assigned Louis M. Bean, department economist and election forecaster, to prepare charts and graphs to show the President that he owes his election primarily to the farmers.

THAT ISN'T all that will be done to insure the farmers a fair return or their investment in Mr. Truman, for top level planners are drafting a new "flexible" price support program to go into effect early in 1949, instead of 1950, as would have been the case under the Republican Aiken farm bill.

Add to this the fact that Senator-Elect Clinton Anderson (D., N. M.), former agriculture secretary, took a direct hand in supervising drafting of the new measure and personally will introduce it, and it becomes evident the farmer's happy place in the administration sun is most assured.

Day of Judgment

Hideki Tojo, former prime minister and top war lord of Japan, was found guilty of wartime atrocities by an allied tribunal in Tokyo and was sentenced to death by hanging. He is the last survivor of the infamous Hitler-Mussolini-Tojo axis.

BASIS of Brannan's contention that farmers elected Mr. Truman: if it weren't for the farm states in the agricultural west, the 11 industrial states on the Atlantic seaboard that voted for Governor Dewey would have swung the election Republican.

How will farmers fare under the administration plan? Here's the projected program:

To protect the farmer against anticipated crop price fall-offs, he would be given a flexible price floor that would protect growers, but would not burden U. S. taxpayers with an extended permanent subsidy of farm surpluses.

PROVIDE adequate storage facilities for farmers in corn and wheat belts to prevent loss of bumper crops.

Extend reclamation and soil conservation benefits to more farmlands and provide an increased rural electrification for more farmers, this to be sponsored and paid for by the government.

This, then, is an extension of the benefits which farmers may have felt were imperiled in the Dewey program, and for which they felt they were voting when they cast their ballots for President Truman.

NEW LIGHT: From Isaiah

New light and interpretation may be thrown on the Old Testament by discovery of the complete scroll of the Prophet Isaiah. All 66 chapters of the book, with only a few portions missing, have been found.

One of the most dramatic Biblical discoveries of all time, the scroll was brought to light recently when four of the oldest Hebrew manuscripts thus far known were found in a cave near the northern end of the Dead Sea.

Scholars date the Isaiah scroll as early Maccabean, or second century B. C., which would make it the oldest Biblical document yet to be discovered intact.

THE DISCOVERY of a complete Isaiah scroll, dating back a thousand years before the oldest one known, promises scholars an opportunity to seek new meaning from the Bible, and to determine by comparison the extent that errors may have found their way into Biblical manuscripts with the passage of time.

Bible scholars point out that the Book of Isaiah, like all of the Bible, came down to us as the result of many, copyings by scribes who would make additional scrolls as the old ones wore out.

WELCOME: Infant Rex

For hours the solemn-faced constable had kept his vigil in the chill of the November night. Impassive in the fact of the huge throngs that pushed against the gates he guarded, he waited for the word.

At last he saw a royal page, garbed in blue, walk stiffly from a palace doorway. The page strode to the constable's side, bent over and spoke in a low voice.

THE CONSTABLE'S face lighted, he walked quickly to the iron railing against which the crowd was densely packed and declared exultantly: "It's a boy!" Then throwing his head back, he shouted: "A prince has been born."

To Princess Elizabeth, heir-apparent to the throne of England, and her consort, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, had been born a son. A prince by a special royal decree of King George VI issued several days before the birth of the child. Their young prince was born just six days short of the royal couple's wedding anniversary, November 20.

THE NEWS that Elizabeth's child was a son told the usually stolid Londoners what they wanted to hear—that the royal heir was a child who might someday be their king.

Into a world of crisis and unrest, an age of a dwindling empire for Britain, was born a princeling whose future as a potential ruler is fraught with imponderables.

Both he and his mother would be cut off the line of succession to the throne should a son be born to the king and queen; monarchical governments, even of the benevolent type, are fading from the world scene; the contracting empire's dimensions are subject to speculation, but even were these things nonexistent, there is the last and greatest imponderable of them all—the atomic bomb.

BIG DOINGS: Inaugural

Washington will "put the big pot in the little one" on January 20 to make President Truman's inauguration the fanciest in the nations history.

Plans call for observance of Inaugural Week, which would be the week in which the big day comes. All government workers would get a Thursday-through-Sunday holiday.

MAN BEHIND THE GUN as the capital shoots for its top inaugural event is Melvin D. Hildreth, chairman of the inauguration committee. Hildreth has set up an imposing program, estimated to cost $100,000, but he says this cost should be covered adequately by ticket, program and souvenir sales.

On tap for the great occasion are everything from religious services to a fireworks display at the Washington monument. On inauguration day itself, a great parade and air show, with special reviewing stands set up across the street from the White House, are features of the event. The next day, Friday, a mammoth ball is planned, to be held at the huge national guard armory.

A VETERAN of five inaugural groups, Hildreth is even planning on sunshine for inaugural day. He says he has checked January 20 weather for the past 15 years, and there was only one rainy day.

The Prime 'Ham'

Capt. Jack Ruggles, American flier who was personal pilot for Winston Churchill during the war, has referred to his ex-chief as a "ham" actor.

"He's a very great guy," said Ruggles. "To understand him you have to realize that he's a great actor—ham—who, once he gets the center of the stage, keeps it no matter what, and milks every scene dry."

? Current Events ?

You probably will recall that the U. S. had a presidential election (sounds of screaming) a few weeks ago. It was the biggest upset since Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern in Chicago, and it will take its place as one of the most unusual in a long line of distinguished American elections. The subject merits a few questions which merit a few answers. Do you know them?

1. Mr. Truman is the first native of Missouri to be elected President. In what two states were the largest number of Presidents born?

2. In this election four southern states voted against the regular Democratic party. How many southern states deserted the party in 1928?

3. Seven vice-presidents have succeeded to the presidency on the death of the chief executive. How many of these, besides Mr. Truman, were elected to a full term as President in their own right?

4. When does the President's term of office begin? And when do those of senators and representatives?

5. There are nine men in Mr. Truman's cabinet. Other Presidents elected recently have had 10-member cabinets. Why the difference?

ANSWERS

1. Virginia—eight (Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Wilson); Ohio—seven (Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding).

2. Five. Texas, Virginia, Florida, North Carolina and Tennessee voted Republican.

3. Two. Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge.

4. President's term begins January 20, those of senators and representatives on January 3.

5. Under the armed forces unification act of 1947 the cabinet positions of secretary of the navy and secretary of war were eliminated and just one office—secretary of defense—was added.

MILLENNIUM: Very Unfunny

When a radio comedian backs off from laughs, the event rates in news value with the man-bites-dog item.

But there's method—about $16,000 worth weekly—in Arthur Godfrey's madness. Godfrey is the guy who has ordered his musicians not to laugh at any of his jokes.

THE RED-HEADED radio comic explains wistfully that his musicians used to laugh at his jokes, sing with him and "have all kinds of fun." But that's all over now, Godfrey says.

He adds that union rules provide that if his musicians laugh at his jokes, or join him in songs, they will come under an additional union, the American Federation of Radio Artists. And that, says Godfrey, would mean an extra cost of $800 to $900 a week for each musician.

BUT GODFREY wants it understood he isn't peeved. Instead, he's trying to squeeze some fun out of the situation.

His men would sing choruses and they'd kid each other, the comedian says, but now "if they open their mouths to sing they come under AFRA's jurisdiction. That adds the extra salary."

REFUND: Pay Up

If you're an ex-GI and figure to cash in on those service insurance dividends next year, make sure you're square with the Veterans' administration or you're likely to get left in the cold.

VA says it may withhold all or part of the checks of two groups of veterans—those who have received overpayments for education or training subsistence and those who have defaulted on GI loans.

Frank W. Kelsey, assistant veterans' administrator, estimated that there are about 600,000 veterans who have been overpaid for subsistence and have not made the proper refunds.

Although the number is being reduced gradually, he said there will still be more than 500,000 a year from now—the probable time when the national service life insurance dividend checks will go into the mail to 16 million veteran policy holders.

TROUBLE: China War

American marines, 4,580 strong, make up the leatherneck garrison at Tsingtao, an outfit charged with assisting in the orderly evacuation of U. S. nationals through that port.

However, that may not be as simple as it sounds. The raging Chinese-Communist war, spilling over into centers where U. S. interests are in jeopardy, had created a situation wherein the marines again could be the "first to fight" in another U. S. military action.

THE BOLSTERING of the marine personnel at Tsingtao from 1,250 to 4,580 would indicate that the government was not overlooking the possibility of a fracas.

Asked if the marines would fight if Communist armies attacked Tsingtao, Defense Secretary James Forrestal sidestepped the question with: "That is a matter for the state department to decide."

The state department was no more informative. Press Officer Michael J. McDermott said: "The answer is that it all depends on circumstances and there is no answer now. . . . I can't pretend to say now what they will do in certain circumstances."

Here were the powder-keg circumstances:

1. TSINGTAO IS close to Communist-controlled areas—so close that the water supply for the city is within Communist-held territory. Experts believed the Communists could take the city at any time.

2. In the Shanghai-Nanking areas there were about 3,050 Americans. In other sections, including Tsingtao, there were 1,574 others. These did not include military people such as those on the American advisory missions to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government.

No Hairshirt Here

A picture of carefree contentment, President Truman accouthered himself in casual shirt while tripping lightly through his post-election vacation at Key West, Fla. He whiled away the drowsy hours by formulating the broad outlines of his administrative policy for the next four years, and paused for a moment to turn down a proposal for another Big Four conference at this time.

Missing Link?

Anthropologists appear to have turned up another "missing link" in the evolution of man.

The latest find, discovered in an ancient Transvaal cave in South Africa, may provide a clue to the earliest known of man's ancestors. The bones of this prehistoric creature, who may have lived a million years ago, indicate he might have been a "man-ape" who carried weapons and built fires.

He apparently walked erect, although he probably was dwarf-sized, weighing from 80 to 100 pounds and possessing a brain comparable in size to that of the largest known gorillas.

Dr. Raymond A. Dart of the University of Witwatersand in Johannesburg, South Africa, who made the discovery, said the long-extinct creature showed physical traits closely approaching the human being as known today.

The creature probably pursued and killed other animals with clubs of the crudest type.

Picture Pageant

THE MORNING AFTER . . . A surging London crowd gathered in front of Buckingham palace's gates the morning after the royal baby arrived, to read the latest bulletins on the condition of Princess Elizabeth and her newborn son who some day may be ruler of the British empire. It was a happy, good-natured crowd, whose decorum exemplified the attitude of the British people toward authority. When this picture was made, the newborn, as yet unnamed, prince was nearly 24 hours old. He rated a 41-gun salute on his arrival.

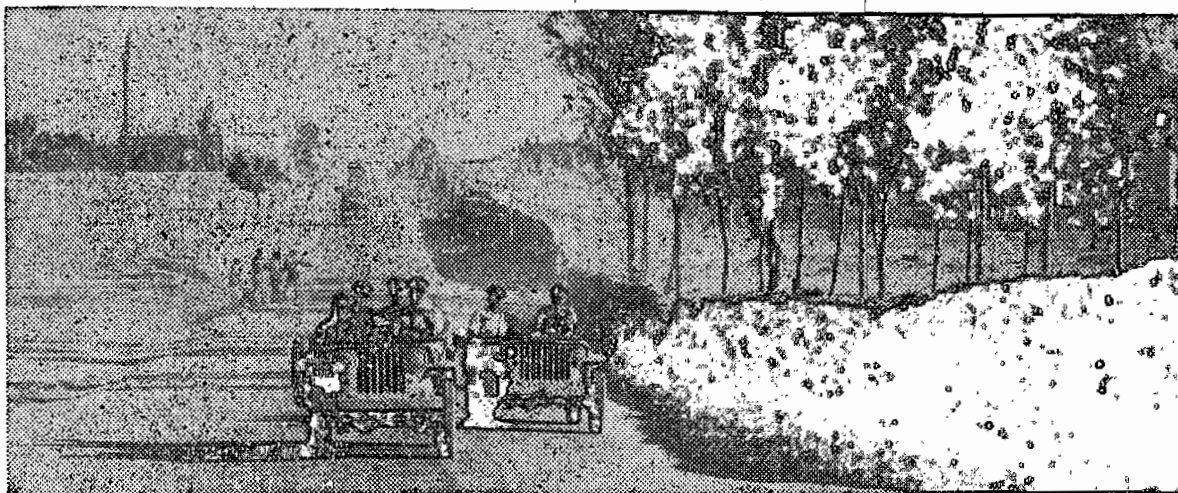

SHARMAN IS BACK . . . Sharman Douglas, lovely daughter of Lewis Douglas, U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, returned to the United States a few days ago and found herself immediately surrounded by the press. Sharman's name has been linked romantically with several of the most distinguished young peers of the Empire.

IS THIS A MIRAGE? . . . We're not drilling any policemen. Anyway, we don't have enough policemen to drill, is the general gist of Russian replies to Western powers' questions on the reported great increase of Red-zone police power and rumored military drilling of the police as militia. However, this photograph secretly snapped through a window of a blocked-off and remote area of the Russian sector of Berlin shows Berlin police terminating a military drill with a march to the auditorium in the background.

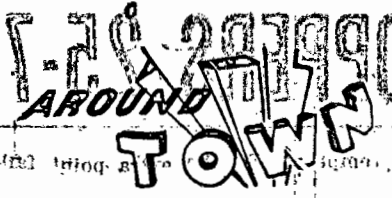

BANNER CROP . . . Military government officials estimate that 340 million bushels of rice is expected to be harvested in Japan this year. On every road, in every town and village of the rice-producing areas, the activity of cutting, drying, threshing, winnowing or transportation to the rice-collection points for sale is evident.

THE ROAD FROM BEERSHEBA . . . The victorious sweep of the Israeli army against Arab and Egyptian forces in the Holy Land revives in the minds of many the names of the cities of the Old Testament—Ashdod, one of the five most important Philistine cities, and ancient Beersheba. Now Jewish soldiers in modern vehicles of war are speeding over the main Gaza-Beersheba road after the capture of the aged city. The Mosque of Beersheba can be seen looming in the background. The city was wrested from the Egyptians by Israeli forces after the U. N. enforced truce in the Holy Land broke down.

CATHOLIC HONORS . . . Jessica Dragonette recently received the "Order of Isabella the Catholic" in a ceremony at the Spanish embassy. The award was given in recognition of her interest in Spanish music and culture. Left to right are Spanish Ambassador Jose Felipe Lequerio, who made the presentation, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Jessica Dragonette and the Spanish charge d'affaires, German Baraibar.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Camire and their daughter Arlene, had dinner Thanksgiving day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Preston of Packers Falls road.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Smith of No. Main street enjoyed a fine Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsdell and their daughter Madeline, at their home on Exeter street. In the afternoon they all attended the movies in Exeter. Mr. and Mrs. Smith also remained to supper with Mr. and Mrs. Ramsdell.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Wright of Exeter road spent Thanksgiving with their daughter Mrs. Lillian Jones and family of Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kimball of New Durham Point road, Mrs. Hannah Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Dowe and Laurene Dowe, James M. and Diana Jean Dowe, visited Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Cummings Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Cummings is Mrs. Kimball's sister. She has two sons Roswell and Myron. Roswell is attending Andover Theological seminary preparing himself for the ministry. Mrs. Cummings' daughter and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Garner and little daughter Audrey Ann of Lowell were also present as was Mrs. F. L. Kilborne of Stowe, Ohio, and her son Richard. Mrs. Kilborne is the youngest sister of Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Cummings.

There were two tables, one for the children with a centerpiece, a white turkey candle holder and four little Puritan maids and with two lighted yellow tapers at each end of the table. The grown-ups had a centerpiece of fruit and four lighted tapers at each end of their table.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brady spent their Thanksgiving with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brady and two little sons, Jimmie and Dickie of Wadleigh Falls road.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremy Desrochers sons visited them last week end. First Mr. and Mrs. Henry Desrochers of Exeter came and celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Desrochers and two children of Exeter, Freddie Desrochers of Richmond, Me., Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Desrochers of Exeter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Desrochers and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Desrochers of Exeter. Mr. Jeremy's sister, Mrs. Goldie Bruno and her son Mr. Sil Bruno and Mrs. Bruno of North-bridge, Mass.

Henry Desrochers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Desrochers successfully passed his test and expects to leave home soon for overseas duty came to say good bye to his grandparents.

POLISH CLUB Notes

Mrs. Andrew Kruczek of Bayside gave a supper party Sunday night for her husband Andrew, in honor of his 57th birthday. A lovely supper was enjoyed including a birthday cake and ice cream served by the hostess following a card game was enjoyed. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warja and children Helen and Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Zych and daughters Helen and Jenny.

Plans are being made at the Women's club meeting for a Christmas party for the children this year and plans as yet are not complete.

Henry Wajda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wajda, recently celebrated his 14th birthday with a party given in his honor by his mother with relatives and close friends attending. Cards were played and refreshments served by the hostess.

Mrs. Kay Szacik of Main street is confined to her home with laryngitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Szacik and family of Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Szacik of Main street and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lynch and family of Willimantic, Conn., were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Szacik and family of Spring street Thanksgiving.

There will be a social Saturday night at the hall and lunch for those who wish to buy served by Mrs. Victoria Zych and Mrs. Anna Wajda.

There is a special meeting of the Polish Women's club Sunday to elect the officers for the coming year. Mrs. Andrew Miescovicz the club president, wishes everyone to be present as this is a very important meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kruczek and son of Grape street spent Sunday in Lowell where their son celebrated his second birthday with a party given in his honor by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Przyhlo. He was given a party in honor of his birthday at his other grandparents including a dinner Thanksgiving day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kruczek of Bayside.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grochmal of Nichols avenue will move into Mr. Chester Kruczek's rent soon. Last Sunday morning Walt Shina got up bright and early to go deer hunting up country. The other parties that he went with, Joe Grochmal and his brother Jackie, and the driver of the car was Teddy Wienczek from Lowell, Mass. They all came back empty handed.

Joe Misery, Andy and Tebo were deer hunting around Ossipee all day last Sunday. The only one that had a shot but not at a deer but at a fox which Andy spotted sunning itself on the side of a hill. He missed. Misery saw a skunk, a porcupine, and a coon, all dead shot by other gunners. Tebo said he was going to sleep on the way up but he didn't. Andy must have kept him awake telling him about some of his experiences he had when out gunning for wild game.

There were some lucky gunners that got their deer. Porky got his also Charles Sewell and Phil Emmond from Portsmouth, all from the same crowd that went up.

The steward says he is going out one of these days and get his deer. We wonder if he is going out by himself or is he going with a party.

From what we hear Peasoup is moving up to the Village pretty soon. Then there will be four Grochmal boys and their sister Helen living at the New Village.

BIRD RUNS WILD, SCORING ALL POINTS AS RAIDERS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN OVER SOMERSWORTH IN LAST HALF SURGE

BY DICK BOYLE

One "Bird" by the name of Gordon "Slim" Bird, ran wild Thanksgiving morning, scoring 25 points to lead the Spaulding High School Red Raiders to a hard fought, 25-7 win, over a fighting, Somersworth High Hilltopper eleven, at Spaulding Field, in the 23rd renewal of their traditional series, which had its beginning back in 1928.

For two periods and part of the third, Somersworth pushed the heavily favored Raiders, but in the final 14 minutes of play the locals found themselves to cross the visitors goal line three times.

Bird scored all four Spaulding T. D.'s to bring his season's total to 12 and he also added the extra point, with a placement, to account for all the SHS points. Ray Hebert notched the only Blue and White score midway through the second period.

Go 70 Yards for Initial Score

The Raiders drew first blood in the second play of the second canto with Bird plunging over from six yards out to climax a sustained 70 yard scoring march. After both teams had exchanged punts and the Hilltoppers had been stopped on the Spaulding 30, Bird went around his own right to mid-field for Spaulding's first, first down of the game. Shaw went off tackle to the visitors' 38 for another first down. "Slim" and "Cat" took turns in carrying for another on the 27. Bird then drove to the 16 for the fourth first down for the Raiders as the initial stanza closed.

Lead 6-0

As the 2nd period opened Ham went to six from where Bird went over around his left end to give Spaulding a 6-0 lead. His try for the extra point was wide. It took the locals nine plays to go the 70 yards for the score.

Somersworth Fights Back

The Hilltoppers came right back to drive 65 yards via the ground and air to tie the score and take the lead.

Brown returned Bird's kick-off to his own 35. On second down, Gagnon hit Fontaine to move the pigskin to the Raiders 38. Brown and Hebert took turns in lugging the ball to the 26. Brown ran for another first down on the SHS 15. Three plays moved the ball to the six from where Ray Hebert carried over to knot the score at 6-6. Another Gagnon to Fontaine pass scored the tie breaking point to give the scrappy Hilltoppers a 7-6 lead.

Hebert Intercepts Pass

Spaulding came back to drive for what appeared to be their second score but Hebert had other ideas and intercepted a Bird aerial on the Somersworth 32.

Then the Francouer men proceeded to drive to the home 40 as the first half ended.

Spaulding Takes Lead 12-7

Both teams exchanged punts in the third period before Spaulding went 63 yards for their second tally via the air lane. Shaw fired a strike to Tremblay for a first down on the visitors 38 yard stripe. It was Bird's turn to throw, he tossed one to Pete Lacroix on the 28. Shaw hit a stone wall, and a penalty for backfield in motion put the Raiders back on the 34 with a third and six to go for the first down.

Then came what is known as a "break" as interference was called on Brown of Somersworth for accidentally hitting Tremblay as he attempted to snatch a Shaw pass, which was out of his reach. This play gave the locals a first down on the 26 and set up the second score. Shaw ran to the 15 for a first down.

Bird Goes 15 Yards

Bird wasted little time in going around his own left end for the second score which gave Spaulding a 12-7 lead. The extra point try by Bird failed.

Blue-White Threaten Again

The Blue and White were still in the game and took the ensuing kick off and marched to the SHS 22 where the drive was halted when Lacroix intercepted Gagnon's pass.

Drive 81 Yards for Third Score

From here, with Shaw, Bird, Lacroix and Desmarais carrying the mail the Raiders went 81 yards to cross the Somersworth goal for their third touchdown. This time Bird made good his try for the extra point and Spaulding led 19-7.

Somersworth failed to get a march underway on the following kick-off and Spaulding took over on the Blue and White 35 yard line.

Score in Final Minutes

A couple of passes failed before Bird fired one to Ray Tremblay who got to the 15 for a first down. With time running out, Bird carried to the six, then to the three and finally over, for the fourth and last Raider touchdown. His attempt to add the extra point failed.

There was just time enough for the kick-off and Hebert made a neat 25 yard runback to end the contest.

Gallant Somersworth Eleven

The gallant but tired and battered Somersworth eleven was in the game until the final few minutes of play. Coach Pete Herman paid the Somersworth team and Coach Jeff Francouer one of the best compliments by saying that he would rather face Dover on successive Saturdays than to play the Hilltoppers.

Offensively, "Slim" Bird, "Cat" Shaw, juniors, "Pete" Lacroix and Ray Tremblay stood out for the Raiders. Brown, Hebert, Gagnon and Fontaine were the standouts for the Hilltoppers.

On defense, "Fern" Therrien and Gary Randall played their usual game in the line for Spaulding.

TONY'S EIGHT TRIP KENDALL'S 36-22

Tony's eight hung up their third win of the season by downing Kendall's Insurance 36-22 in a City League Basketball game.

It was a nip and tuck affair up to the final two minutes of play when Tony's eight found the range for 10 markers.

Bruce Fowler with ten and Bill Marble with seven points paced the winners' attack. Dick Parsons was high man for Kendall's with nine markers.

ALLAIN JRS. ROMP OVER FARMERS 41-18

Allain Jrs. tossed another unblemished record into the ash can Monday evening, handing Farmer's Motors their first defeat in four starts 41-18. It was the third win in four starts for the Jewelers.

Ken Taylor paved the way for the winners with nine points, while Paul Bergeron and Steve Bickford shared scoring honors for Farmers with seven markers each.

HOLY ROSARY HIGH FACES ST. IGNATIUS FRIDAY AT SANFORD

The local schoolboy basketball season gets underway this coming Friday, evening when Holy Rosary high travels to Sanford, Maine, where they meet St. Ignatius high.

In two contests last season, Sanford defeated the Blue and Gold 57-28 and 46-17. For the past two weeks Coach Gil Standish has been sending his charges through rugged drills in the Gonic Town Hall, preparing for the Sanford game.

Coach Standish is expected to send an experienced quintet onto the court against St. Ignatius as Romeo Laroche, Louis Levesque, Harvey Paquin, Ray Gravel and

'Tis the season to be jolly--and if you're a woman facing the vexing question of what to get him, here's a two-way perfect solution: If he's a smoker who likes his cigarettes on the cool, mild side, get him a carton or two of Camels. Their choice tobaccos are sure to please him on Christmas Day. Or perhaps he enjoys smoking a pipe, too. If so, mellow Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco will round out your gift selection in a mighty handsome manner. Both items are right in keeping with your holiday sentiment; they come gaily wrapped in special Christmas packages. The Camel cartons contain 200 cool, mild Camel cigarettes. And the pound tin of Prince Albert is brimful of mild, tasty smoking that has truly earned the title -- the National Joy Smoke. Each gift has space for your written greetings. When you give Camels and Prince Albert for Christmas, you can be sure of pleasing him! They're easy to order, too; a local dealer is well supplied right now. (Adv.)

Fluorine Checks Decay

A group of men working with hydrofluoric acid in an atomic energy project have been found to have unusually healthy teeth, the Journal of the American Dental Association says.

The phenomenon is cited as additional evidence that fluorine is valuable in preventing dental decay.

The workmen laboring continuously in an atmosphere laden with acid fumes were found to have less than half the number of dental fillings as others in the same plant not exposed to the fumes.

UNWILLING YAQUIS

Mexico Aids Her Indians

CIUDAD OBREGON, SONORA, MEXICO.—A long-range plan to change warring Yaqui Indians into peaceful farmers is patiently being pursued by the Mexican government, regardless of widespread doubt and skepticism.

The Yaqui is not willing to forget his persecutions by Spanish conquerors or Mexican agents.

He feels all the land rightfully belongs to him and thinks he has exchanged a blanket for a small handkerchief in accepting two and a half square miles of property for each of his nine pueblos and additional farming lands.

Mexicans feel too much land has been given the Indians and that the amount of money being spent on them is excessive.

"The Indians are not good farmers," they say.

In the meantime, the Mexican government, copying the United States Indian Service plans, is constructing a huge canal to irrigate the Yaqui land grants in an effort to convert the warriors into farmers.

No longer do the Yaquis sweep out of their Bacatete Mountains stronghold to burn trains, butcher passengers and ranchers and ravage the countryside.

Even so, there is constant, if slight, fear of another Yaqui outbreak.

While Southern Pacific of Mexico trains now travel without soldiers, two cavalry posts at Esperanza and Bicom are ready to protect citizens. "There is not a family in this area but has suffered at the hands of the Yaqui," L. M. Byerly, American farm machinery merchant, explains.

"This valley today is in exactly the same position Arizona found itself in the 1880's," says Sidney M. Morrison, manager of the Richardson Construction Co. which opened the valley's vast irrigation system.

Our valley has the Yaqui, Arizona had the Apache," he continues. "There is the constant fear not only of another Yaqui outbreak, but of further expropriation of lands under the agrarian system.

"Some progress is being made among the Yaqui in training them to become able farmers, but it seems slow by American standards."

Mexicans themselves feel their government has been wasteful in giving the Yaqui tribe more than 12 million acres of land which extend to the Gulf of California.

A large portion of this is irrigable and it is through this that the Utah Construction Co. has been building a new canal over 30 kilometers long.

Eventually water will be fed into the canal system solely for Yaqui indian use.

But the Yaqui continues to call the Mexican "yori," or enemy. Generally they dislike laws, soldiers, government agents and Americans.

They remember the 1903 massacre of thousands of Yaqui and the trainloads who were shipped like slaves to work in Yucatan.

Ex-Trolleyman Hurtles His New Bus Into Brush

WILKES-BARRE. — For 28 years Andrew Ondash was a trolley operator who knew every inch of rail along the line. He knew, too, that everywhere the tracks went, the trolley was sure to go. Then his company put busses on the line he served those many years.

The new mechanism was unfamiliar. But Andrew took a firm grip on the wheel and turned. The bus left the highway, huddled a ditch and ploughed 10 feet into underbrush.

Andrew's bosses said it was all right. They felt everyone must learn, some time.

THE JAGGED SCAR

By DONALD HUNTER

Tom and his dad had always been pals, so much so that when "the old man" suddenly became sullen and morose toward his son, Tom attributed it to his "growing up" and he began to find life almost unbearable.

THE Tow-Headed Boy with the hair close cropped didn't know what it was. The old man spent hours just gazing off into space. He sat on the top front porch step, his cane between his knees, his feet planted on the second step and the cane end set on the bottom one. With his hands crossed over the cane head, the right hand carefully covered the jagged scar across the back of the left one.

Other times, when the boy was around, he always seemed busy reading the newspaper. He kept it folded so he could hold it with one hand, the scarred hand concealed in his lap.

Of course, he had never been very talkative. Stoic, like the hill people he came from, he never mentioned his troubles. When he'd chopped his hand with an ax out in the back yard, he'd sneaked through the kitchen hiding the mangled bloody member behind him so the boy's mother wouldn't see.

The boy had stood in the front room wide-eyed and anxious with fear when the old man saw him.

"Don't tell your mother, boy!" he'd warned before he went into the bedroom to tear up an old sheet for wrapping his hand.

But the boy's mother had noticed. She sensed the strange atmosphere, the unusual actions. She'd followed him into the bedroom, and the boy had heard the old man shushing her, while she bawled him out for hiding the thing. He kept saying it was nothing—and afterwards he never talked about it, never complained. He just never let anyone see the jagged scar across the back of his hand if he could help it.

Now, the old man was withdrawn; he couldn't get near him anymore, couldn't talk to him. Once, he'd been able to get a kind word out of the old man. He'd say, "That's good, Tom!" or, "That's not the way that ought to be done, Son!" And though there weren't very many words between them, they were the kind that made the boy feel good, and know that everything was all right.

Now, it was different. The old man didn't seem to have time for him. He didn't want to take their long silent walks together anymore, like he used to. And he didn't move around much. He even seemed to resent the boy's presence, like when he'd stumbled that time in the front room and caught himself on his cane. He growled at the boy, leaving him speechless and hurt. But he wasn't old, not like Grampa—and the old mare down on the farm.

Still, the last time he'd brought his report card home from school, happily expecting the old man to say, as he sometimes did, "That's good, Son, good that you're getting your learning!" and smile at him quietly, he hadn't done it.

He'd only glanced at the card on one side then turned it over and said something that sounded like "Humph!" and handed it back to him shortly. The boy had worked extra hard that last month to get the grades up hoping the old man might break through to him again. He couldn't understand that short "Humph!"

There was something wrong, and the boy wondered if it could be him. His mother seemed to act the same way toward him. Cut him off short, when he'd tried awkwardly to ask her about how dad was treating him. He called him the old man when he was with the other boys his age, not with any disrespect but he always called him dad around his mother.

"Oh, leave your father alone, can't you?" she said. And he went away sensing an even greater wrong.

Even little Rosemary, the girl he talked to shyly in the school yard sometimes, seemed to be treating him different lately. "What's wrong with you?" she'd ask right in the middle of his wondering what was wrong with the old man and his mom.

"Oh, nothing—nothing!" he'd say quickly. "Why?"

"Well, you don't talk near so much anymore," she'd say, "and you seem so far away, like!"

He wondered if just not paying any attention to her while he was thinking about his dad and mom made her think there was something wrong with him. Or if maybe there was really something wrong with him.

He hated the thought, but it kept cropping up in his mind. Maybe he was adopted! Maybe the old man and his mom were not really his father and mother, but had just

Just getting big, you had to be hard, cold, without love, understanding, feeling or—There was something wrong in just growing up!

The boy started to rub his knuckle into his eye, but stopped. A bleak chill was settling in his heart, as he watched the old man go in the front door. But he followed him, some strange knowingness urging him to get his answer confirmed. To make sure that was it.

The old man was bent over fumbling around on the floor for the worn leather change purse he'd dropped, when the boy walked in. His hand closed on the purse and he straightened quickly.

"Here, boy," he said hurriedly, digging into the pouch. "Run down to the corner and get me a paper!"

He often asked him to do that, and the boy felt a rise of that good feeling at anything he could do for the old man. He held out his adopted him—and he was just now finding it out. The thought frightened him, and he buried it deep in his mind. If it was true, he'd be like the old man; hide his hurt. He'd never let them know he knew!

His father called him "boy" now, instead of "Tom" or "Son," like he had. And he was sharp, almost harsh sometimes.

HE WAS bouncing his ball off the side of the house when the old man came around from the backyard. In an excess of boyish joy, he forgot for a moment what the situation was between them. He threw the ball to the old man. Instead of catching it and firing it back so it would sting his hands the old man ignored it. He did nothing till the ball hit him, and bounced harmlessly off his shoulder.

He tensed then, lifted his cane. "Stop that infernal nonsense, boy!" he yelled.

The boy could feel his own lip tremble as he stared at the old man's angry face. He took a deep breath, his young chest swelling quickly with the sharp intake of air. He held it, stiffened his lip. He would not cry. Crying wasn't grown up!

The thought struck him then that maybe that was the whole thing that was wrong. He was growing up! He wanted to turn down that thought right away. If this was what it was like, if this was growing up—then he didn't want to be big! He didn't want to be. It hurt too much.

Why couldn't it be like it used to be with the old man and him? But if that was it—if it was just growing up—then it never would be like that again. And Rosemary—she would never treat him the same again, either. She knew, too!

hand and the old man laid three coins in his palm.

"Now hurry, boy!" he urged harshly. The boy felt disappointment at the sharp, urgent tone, until he glanced down at the coins.

Suddenly, he stood very still. Two dimes and a penny lay in his hand to pay for the three-cent paper. Waves of coldness washed up his spine as the bitter acid of knowledge bit into his nerve ends and settled in his brain.

He made no outcry; not even the sound of a murmur passed his tight lips. But hot liquid emotion scalded two lines of silent tears down his cheeks as he gazed, knowingly at last, up into his father's slowly blinding eyes.

"Okay, dad!" he said, his voice stumbling over his heart, "Okay, dad!"

Girl Rescues Two-Year-Old From Death in Tar Pool

LOS ANGELES. — Ruth Vivian Oriani, 17, saved the life of a two year old boy buried to his eyes in the clinging ooze of an old tar pool.

Ruth, looking for little Larry Stansbury at his mother's request, found him in the muck. She threw down two planks, crawled out 10 feet and pulled his head above the tar. With her fingers she carefully dug tar out of his mouth and nostrils.

She pulled and tugged, got him onto the planks, finally back to solid ground. Quickly she applied artificial respiration.

About that time the firemen arrived with a respirator. They hustled rescued and rescuer to the hospital. The little boy apparently is recovering. Ruth let them remove the tar from her hands and arms. Then she just went home.

HINTS FOR A HAPPY HOME

Wife Is Traitoress

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"HOW can a man be sure his wife is not cheating on him?" asks Van Harrison of East St. Louis. "I've got a very pretty wife," his letter goes on, "and, of course, when I'm at home she is all devotion. But I'm not at home much and I have a feeling that Doreen does pretty much what she wants to do when I'm away."

"Last year she got hold of some handsome furs, said she had picked up a pawn ticket in the street and found that they were overdue, on payments and could be bought. Well, I investigated that. I felt like a heel doing it and it seemed straight enough, but it could have been framed, too."

"Now she has two good-looking air-weight suitcases, about $50 worth of stuff, and she says a friend sold them to her for practically nothing, because the friend had new ones. I haven't the nerve to ask her what friend and follow that up. I know she dresses better than any of the other women on our size income. Now other women are beginning to hint that Doreen isn't playing fair."

"How's for getting a job at home, even at a sacrifice?" continues this anxious yet inarticulate husband. "She seems to see every show that comes to town—well, I could take her to shows. We have one kid; now 11, and something he said to me yesterday about Mamma's interests and Mamma's friends has kept me awake one whole night."

It will keep me awake a lot more if I don't settle the matter. Can a woman cheat and get away with it these days, and what are the men doing about it?"

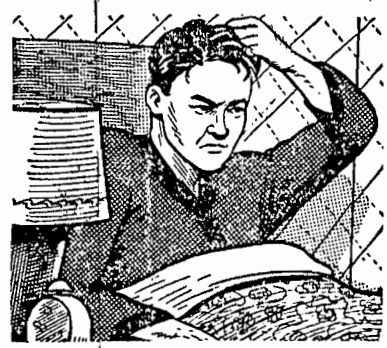

Unfortunately, Van, I say in answer, a woman in Doreen's position can cheat easily. And if you change your job and attempt to keep too close a watch on her, if she actually is cheating, she will break away.

Honor isn't affected by a man's absences, nor a woman's opportunities to be untrue. Honor is a matter of her mind and her soul, of what she was taught and trained to do as a child, of character and background and of that innate fineness that comes naturally to a woman whose home influences have been sound.

If Doreen hasn't had the advantages of a good mother and father and sound training in decency and honesty, nothing that you can do will cure her. And there's where the vital, the tragic importance of giving children a good start comes in.

Raising small children, cooking and housekeeping, watching the family health and planning the family meals can seem but a dull task to an ambitious, pleasure-loving, vital woman, but it is a more essential one than any that a scientific genius ever enjoyed.

The service a good mother and father do for their town, for the nation and for civilization generally is beyond all words. Every child that grows to maturity with a normal healthy mind and body, with a sense of duty, a willingness to serve rather than be served, to work for a plan rather than wait for the realization of a fairy-tale, to be unselfish, to be interested in the affairs of others, to be self-reliant and to develop a sense of humor is fortunate throughout his whole life.

And to the mother who breaks up her home, scatters her children, regales her friends with complaints of the children's father and to that mother who, like Doreen, cheats while Van is away and collects gifts from this lover and that, while laughing at the man she promised to honor, I can say only that you are laying a careful foundation for the ruin of your own lives.

WHO HAS NOT SUFFERED

WHO has not suffered does not know
All that his God would have him know.

He has not learned the patient trust
That those who suffer bravely must.

He has not seen Faith's star arise
Above the blackest midnight skies;

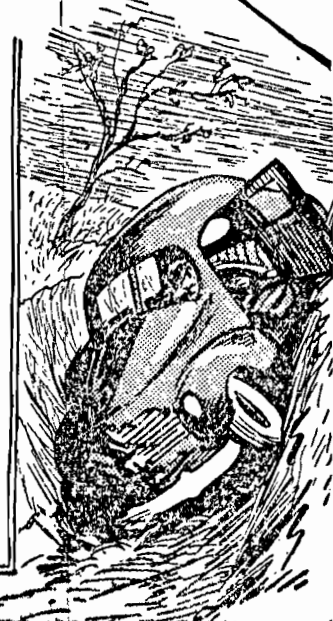

Nor clung to Hope that lights the way
Across the grayest, bleakest day;

Nor waited, quietly aware
Of God beyond unanswered prayer.

He has not known how deep a peace
May follow some sweet, sure release.

Who has not suffered does not know
All that his God would have him know.

PET SHOT BY HUNTER

Sunday morning Mr. William Warnecke, Sr., found his cat on the sidewalk opposite his home with its head shot off.

A shot was heard at 6:15 and woke a number of the neighbors. It is thought that a car must have hit the cat and the hunter shot it to put it out of misery.

The townspeople wish that the hunters who pass through town would be more careful and are glad the shot didn't go astray and go through someone's window.

Junior High Planning Board Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Junior High School Planning Board on November 22, the following officers were elected for the school year:

They are: President, Richard Lewis; vice president, Mary Lunt; secretary, Arline Davis.

The purpose of the Board was discussed and plans for the year were tentatively formed.

There were 19,500 farm people killed and 1,800,000 injured as a result of accidents in 1947.

Schilling summed up the challenge which faces the church during the next season, and urged everyone to enlist in the program which the deacons had recommended. He said, "The success of the Appella Campaign in arousing enthusiasm for the gospel leaves us the solemn responsibility of keeping those revival fires burning in the hearts of those who are followers of Christ."

The meeting closed with a unison reading of the Church Covenant of Fellowship to which everyone joining the church assents.

This Home-Mixed Cough Syrup Is Most Effective

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey. Instead of sugar syrup.

Then get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving because it gives you about four times as much for your money. Never spoils. Tastes fine.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough relief. Swiftly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for quick and pleasing results.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered
Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

The Once Over Letter for Harry

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Honorable Harry Truman
Washington, D. C.

The glow of having your mitt raised as the surprise winner in a knockout and dragout fight is probably beginning to fade now, but I'll bet few Americans have ever felt better. You surprised a lot of folks. You now stand out in the picture as a sort of wonderman when only a short time ago so many people were wondering if you would quite do. You must have set a new record for up-your-sleeve laughter in the last couple of days. What have you got that John L. Sullivan, Man o' War and Dempsey didn't have?

To even your severest critics you were a good egg and a top notch American citizen. You were a pretty perfect composite of the fellows most of us like to have on our list of friends and buddies. You come close to being the typical American, the genuine, clean living, dependable guy we all warm up to at the Kiwanis club luncheons, the Elks outing, the church social, the businessmen's lunch, the old home week celebration and the class reunion. Disliking you was a tough trick anywhere anytime.

To those poll takers it seemed just a case of miscasting, but they forgot that a lot of very big performers have suffered from that erroneous impression without losing public regard and affection. You were in there pitching in one of the toughest spots in world history.

But you never claimed to have all the answers, you at no time posed as the world's master magician and there was never a suggestion of the dictator about you. You were in the American tradition of the humble public servant. You gave us a respite from ballyhoo and medicine show routine. You had respect for the other fellow's opinions, as a rule. And on the whole you kept your patience and seemed always to be in there trying heart and soul.

I have a hunch you will now go on to be one of the most popular Presidents in the history of America, that you will be flabbergasted by the warmth of the country's feeling for you for years to come and that what you have been through is going to make you a better and happier President of the glorious U. S. A.

Lots of luck,
ELMER.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: The floor of our trailer home is covered with an asphalt covering which is rather badly worn. Would you recommend laying tile over this covering, or taking up the old and starting from scratch?

ANSWER: A good floor-covering contractor probably would prefer to take up the old covering because it might make an uneven base for the tile. He would know best about that, however, after seeing the actual condition of the present covering.

QUESTION: Is there a paint to seal leaks in a roof by painting over the roofing?

ANSWER: Leaks often can be stopped by the application of an asphalt roofing cement. A roofer can do this job for you. But if the roof leaks all over, a new roof would be more advisable.

River Road School Notes

On Monday evening of this week Mrs. John Hayes, Mrs. Wilfred Hartford, Mrs. James P. Dixon, Mrs. John Couch and Miss Dixon attended a PTA meeting of the Blaisdell Corner school where Miss Griney, the State Supervisor of the School Lunch program was the guest speaker of the evening. Miss Griney explained in detail the practical working out of the various types of lunch approved by the State under our Federal Government and handled her subject in a very able manner. All districts especially interested in lunch programs in town were represented at this gathering. Miss Griney was presented with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums, the gift of the Blaisdell Corner PTA. Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

River Road school is very busy preparing its Christmas program. Joan Hayes, Wayne Stearns, sixth grade pupils; Janet Hayes, Judith and Robert Menard and Louise Hartford of third grade; Judith Hayes, a second grade; and Ginger Dunn and Barbara Couch of grade one are doing very satisfactory work at present.

Lt. and Mrs. Donald F. Dixon of Derry with their daughter, Carole, were guests of Mr. Dixon's parents on Thanksgiving Day.

The community was saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Janet Rodger, who passed away Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Gray in Rochester.

Mrs. Rodger celebrated her 83rd birthday November 8th. She was a resident of North Rochester for over thirty-five years, a kind neighbor, a loyal friend, she has left many friends here extend their sincere sympathy to the family.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Edgerly Funeral Home and burial was in the family lot in the Rochester cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wiggin of North Thetford, Vt., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiggin.

Mr. Everett Nichols of the River road, was among the lucky hunters Saturday afternoon when he bagged a four point buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Richard entertained Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Remick of West Lebanon, Maine, Mr. Tracy Flint of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Remick and little daughter Sharon at a dinner party Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lowell of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lowell and two children of East Rochester spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis and children of Herkimer, New York, called on friends Sunday. Mr. Davis was a former clerk in Wentworth's store here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wiggin were Thanksgiving day guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Probert.

Mrs. Thelma Hartford was a patient at the Frisbie Memorial hospital Monday when they expected to remove the casts from both legs which were injured October 19th. Her many friends are glad to know she is gaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Libby of Sanford, Maine, called on Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Libby Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thibau entertained their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thibau and little son Douglas of Claremont on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Adelard Beriault and daughters Anita and Yvonne spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ludger Beaulieu of Wolfboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Gray of Rochester called on Mrs. Merl Wentworth Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cummings and little son Glen are visiting Mr. Cummings' parents in Norwalk, Conn. They motored down with Mr. Earl Lord of Milton.

Mrs. Barbara Kendall was guest of honor at a stork shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Allison Merrill. Mrs. Kendall received some lovely gifts and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

REV. CLAIR M. COOK, WARD 1

DEMO. CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL INTERESTED IN WORKING MAN

The Rev. Clair M. Cook of East Rochester, nominated for City Council in Ward 1, is the author of a weekly column entitled "The Parson Looks at Labor," published in the independent Methodist weekly, Zion's Herald. A graduate of Hamline University and of Boston University School of Theology, he became interested in labor problems while working as a machinist in Springfield, Vermont, for several years, holding various union offices including that of New England regional executive board member. In addition to the weekly column, Mr. Cook has written numerous other articles on labor problems for Economic Justice, Christian Century, and other publications. We reprint below the November 10 column in Zion's Herald.

The claims of the labor leaders of the nation that their backing of President Truman and most of the Democratic candidates who were so surprisingly swept into office last Tuesday, have so much to justify them. According to the Bureau of the Census estimate as of last July 1st, 93,704,000 persons were eligible to vote. Of these, only about 55 percent cast their ballots. But because of labor's great interest in the outcome, undoubtedly far more than that, perhaps up to 80 percent of its 15 million members voted. Of these 12 million or so, a much heavier majority were for Truman than in the total population. It can scarcely be disputed that this was a decisive factor.

Labor union activity in politics is nothing new on the American scene. The Workingman's Labor Party of Philadelphia, which in 1828 polled 2,400 votes and gained the balance of power in the city council, was forty years ahead of the political action of English labor. The New York Workingman's Party, the New England Association of Farmers, Mechanics, and Other Workmen, and various early labor groups were in politics more than a hundred years ago.

But the stricter "business unionism" of Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor held to a non-partisan policy of rewarding labor's friends and defeating its enemies at the polls. Political unionism in the nineteenth century had too often failed to warrant confidence in labor as a strictly political force.

But conditions have changed. William Greene has announced the end of that tradition with the statement that labor is "in politics to stay." In many ways the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. have worked as a team in political action this year. A recent survey of several scores of union periodicals placed politics first as a subject for attention. Labor has begun to have a justifiable hope that workers may exert on a national scale the decisive influence of that first labor party in Philadelphia: A unified labor movement in politics would have tremendous significance.

Kermit Eby, educational director of the C. I. O., writing in the current issue of Religious Education, says that "the time is very near when labor will be the predominant influence in many of our industrial cities." He adds, "Nor is the time too far away when the labor movement may take over the Democratic Party, or when there will be a labor party, when (its) leadership may inevitably become the leadership of the progressive forces in America."

Perhaps this estimate is prophetic. Labor leadership can not by any means deliver a solid bloc of votes for a presidential candidate; union members are as politically individualistic as church members. But there can be no doubt that vast numbers of otherwise indifferent or undecided votes went to the polls last Tuesday to mark a big "X" for Truman because eighty per cent of their union leaders from both major groups agreed in backing him.

Labor's political power is an increasing factor as the war-time millions of new unionists become assimilated into a solid force. Its strategic importance for good or ill in national political life demands the interest and attention of the churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tuttle had the following Thanksgiving day guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Tuttle and family of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wentworth Cassells of Manchester.

Mrs. Jerome Regan had twenty-four for Thanksgiving dinner. They were Mr. and Mrs. Norris Sanborn and family of Wolfboro, Mr. and Mrs. James Regan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logan and daughter of Milton, Mrs. Diane Michaud and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Regan, Bobby Page and Jack Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Davis and the twins attended the forty-first wedding anniversary dinner of Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis at the home of Mr. Daniel Davis in Milton Mills Thursday afternoon. There were twenty-two present including their five children, Daniel of Milton Mills, Merton of No. Rochester, Harold of Herkimer, N. Y., Eileen Hennessey and Madeline Hood of East Rochester, and ten grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Davis received a beautifully decorated cake, several gifts and a sum of money.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Hennessey, Mrs. Eugene Davis of East Rochester, Mrs. Belle Keyser and Mr. Peter McLaughlin of Lebanon, Me., visited Mr. and Mrs. Merton Davis Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Regan and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Davis were among those attending the silver wedding party of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bickford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mace on the Chestnut Hill Drive Saturday night. There were over 100 guests present and Mr. and Mrs. Bickford received a beautiful couch. Refreshments were served.

George Leeman and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Davis were among those attending the Fireman's Ball in Rochester Thursday evening. Jack Sullivan celebrated a birthday anniversary on Monday evening. He received a cake, several gifts and a sum of money.

Norman Dupuis has returned from the hospital.

THOMAS H. WISWALL

Just across the Durham line, for thirty years a paper mill was successfully operated, employing quite a force of men and women, and playing an important part in the manufacture of the locality. Thomas H. Wiswall, son of Thomas and Sarah (Trowbridge) Wiswall, was born January 28, 1817, in Exeter where he attended school, taking two terms at the Wakefield Academy. At the age of sixteen, he entered his father's paper mill, where he thoroughly learned every detail of the manufacture of paper in the mill owned by him in Exeter. He continued with his father until 1864 when he was called to take charge of a paper mill at Dover, which he operated with success for more than three years, after which he returned to Exeter and was employed for two years in the Russell paper mills.

In 1853, in company with Isaac Flagg, he purchased a saw mill and water privilege on the Lamprey River, about three miles from the village. They here erected their plant, thoroughly equipping it with modern, up to date machinery and began the manufacture of wall paper, which they shipped to Boston.

In a short time Mr. Flagg disposed of his interests and Mr. Wiswall associated with him Howard Moses, who was succeeded by his father, C. P. Moses, who continued the partnership until his death in August, 1883.

The mills were destroyed by fire November 1, 1883, after which Mr. Wiswall retired from active business life.

For over half a century he was deacon and a prominent pillar of the Congregational church of this town and one of its most liberal supporters. Of a deeply religious nature, coupled with a genial disposition and generous to a fault, he was universally respected and loved and his name is cherished in many homes that greatly miss his kindly and sympathetic aid.

NUT AND BOLT FACTORY

Second in importance in the industrial history of the town was the nut and bolt factory, built by Lafayette Hall in 1862, which stood at the first falls of the Piscassic River, about a mile above the business section of the town, and was three times destroyed by fire from the last of which it was never rebuilt. This mill was operated chiefly by water power, for which the falls are most admirably suited, being also equipped with steam for use when occasion required.

Mr. Hall's first mill was destroyed in 1876. The works were immediately rebuilt, only to be burned to the ground again in 1877. With his characteristic energy Mr. Hall again rebuilt, on the same site, and carried on successful business until Sept. 19, 1885, when the factory was destroyed for the third time.

In 1880 Mr. Hall's consumption of iron amounted to about 800 tons per year, which was manufactured into bolts, nuts, washers, screws and railroad supplies. He employed on an average about fifteen men and his payroll amounted to about $5000 per year. A considerable village grew up about this mill, which has been known for many years by the name of Hallsville.

BANK

In view of the need which the increasing business of the town created for a local bank, in July, 1885, a charter was secured for a state bank, and the same was organized with a capital of sixty thousand dollars. Z. Dow Creighton was the first president and S. A. Haley was cashier. In May 1885 the national banking law became operative and the charter was extended, the bank reorganized, and the capital stock increased to $80,000.

J. S. Lawrence became president and Mr. Haley continued as cashier. Through the period of the Civil War the bank prospered, and until the death of the cashier in 1892. This was a serious blow to the bank, and the panic of '93, which startled the world of finance "like a bolt from a cloudless sky." Following close upon his death, the bank became seriously involved and for a time its existence was precarious. Certain individuals conspired to wreck the bank, and through their influence the deposits were drawn down to $14,000 and the surplus shrunk to a paltry five hundred dollars.

WHAT VETERANS SHOULD KNOW!

Veterans who wish to have all or part of their National Service Life Insurance paid in a lump sum to a selected beneficiary must make that choice by written notification to the Veterans Administration, L. P. Howard, the VA Insurance Officer for the New Hampshire VA Regional Office, stated today.

A beneficiary may not receive NSLI proceeds in a lump sum unless the insured veteran selected that mode of payment before his death.

In addition to the lump-sum settlement the Insurance Officer stated that there are three other methods of payment to the beneficiary available. These provide monthly payments in equal amounts for any number of years, ranging from three years up to income for life to the first beneficiary.

When the insurance becomes payable to a beneficiary, that person may request change from the method of payment selected by the insured to one of the methods which provides monthly payments over a longer period of months. However, the beneficiary may not change the method of payment so as to shorten the number of monthly payments below the number selected by the veteran.

If an insured veteran selects lump-sum payment of his NSLI death has the choice of receiving proceeds, the beneficiary after his full amount in a lump-sum settlement, or in receiving part in lump-sum and the remainder by any one or more of the three meth-

A Proclamation

Christmas Seals

For many years New Hampshire's battle against tuberculosis has been substantially financed through the annual giving of our people to the New Hampshire Tuberculosis Association through the sale of seals at Christmas.

This year the association again asks the help of everyone to the end that the campaign may be effectively continued. While it is true that we in New Hampshire have made great strides in the treatment and control of this disease, it is still a major problem and requires our earnest attention and consideration if the state's excellent record is to stand unimpaired.

It is through the sale of Christmas Seals that funds are provided to permit this relentless campaign to go on.

In consideration of these facts, I, Charles M. Dale, Governor of New Hampshire, do hereby proclaim the annual Christmas Seal Sale in New Hampshire as a matter of public concern.

Given at the Executive Offices at Concord this eighth day of November in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-third.

CHARLES M. DALE,
Governor.

By His Excellency the Governor
Attest:

ENOCH D. FULLER,
Secretary of State.

PRIESTS FROM ROCHESTER AREA APPOINTED TO NEW PASTORATES

Two priests from the Rochester area was transferred to new pastorates, it was announced this week by the chancery office of the diocese of Manchester.

Rev. John F. Morin of Gonville, pastor of St. Anne's church in Berlin, has been transferred to St. George church of Manchester, one of the largest parishes in the state.

Rev. L. Rodolphe Drapeau of Somersworth, pastor of St. Joseph parish, Epping, will replace Father Morin at St. Anne's. The appointments will become effective December 10.

Father Morin is a native of Gonville. He was born there on June 28, 1886 and ordained Most Rev. Elzar Mathieu, DD, Bishop of Quebec, on May 10, 1914. He succeeds the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. T. J. E. Devoy as spiritual leader of the St. George parishioners. His previous pastorates besides St. Anne's were at St. Anthony's, Manchester and at Sanbornville. Rev. Maurice Trotter, curate at St. George, has been serving as temporary administrator there pending Father Morin's appointment.

Father Drapeau was born in Somersworth on Nov. 1, 1897 and ordained in 1922 by Most Rev. Michael Curley, DD, archbishop of Baltimore, for the diocese of Manchester. He held previous pastorates at St. Peter's Farmington and St. Albert's in West Stewartstown.

NATIONAL SCIENCE TALENT SEARCH

Preliminary examinations in connection with the Eighth Annual Science Talent Search will be held Wednesday, December 1, at Spaulding High School under the supervision of Mr. Theodore Lylis.

Students taking the science aptitude test will be Leslie Towle, Donald Mills, Lawrence Wagner, Winifred Carey, Paul McNally and Elwood Floyd.

The Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships is conducted annually by Science Clubs of America, administered by Science Service. The purpose of the Search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent and creative originality in science.

Forty boys and girls who lead in the preliminary examinations will be given all-expenses-paid trips to Washington to attend the Science Talent Institute for five days early next spring and take the final examinations for the scholarships. One contestant will be selected by a board of judges to receive a Westinghouse Grand Science Scholarship of $2,800 ($700 per year for four years). One other contestant will receive a Westinghouse Grand Science Scholarship of $2,000 ($500 per year for four years). Eight more contestants will receive Westinghouse Scholarships for $400 ($100 a year for four years) and $3,000 additional in Scholarships will be awarded.

As part of the preliminary examinations each contestant must submit and essay of about 1,000 words on the subject "My Scientific Project."

Dog Has Dinner At Expense Of 28 Hens

Even dogs like to have a solid meal on Thanksgiving Day, so Fred Pierce of 22 Union street in East Rochester reported to local police last Thursday afternoon.

Upon returning home from a holiday dinner with relatives Pierce went to the hen coop to collect eggs laid by his hens during the day, but instead found 28 hens and one rooster dead.

Further investigation led to a neighbor's house where the dog was reported resting comfortably, following his delicious dinner.

But this proved to be his last meal, as on Friday morning the dog joined his victims.

LANDLORDS MUST FILE NEW RENT LEASES BY DEC. 31ST.

The office of Sherburne N. Marshall, area rent director for New Hampshire, has issued a bulletin correcting "an apparent misunderstanding among some of the landlords" regarding the filing of rent leases to gain a 15 per cent increase in revenue.

The Dec. 31, 1948, deadline for filing leases applies only to those landlords who have never filed a lease before, the bulletin points out.

Continuing, the bulletin explains the matter as follows:

The deadline very definitely does not mean that a landlord who has previously filed a lease that is in effect until Dec. 31, 1948, can now apply for an additional 15 per cent increase.

"Mr. Marshall has declared, however, that landlords who now have leases running out Dec. 31, 1948, can renew them by filing new leases, providing they do not increase the rent stipulated in the lease they seek to renew."

WASHINGTON DIGEST

The National Election Has Produced Changes in Democrats and Republicans

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—There are two experiences which no one should miss if he can help it. Coming into Paris, the "city of light," and Washington, "the city of magnificent distances," at twilight by airplane.

Lately I dropped down from the clouds upon Washington, with the lingering embrace of southern sunlight about me. The tiny sparkling lights below winked their welcome. But this esthetic experience ended brusquely when I left the airport. The winking lights stared, and by the time I reached the National Press club, eyes winked but they belonged to my colleagues who patrol the beat from the White House to the Capitol.

Fresh from the innocent delights of the vacationing fisherman, I bragged about my tan, and then carelessly inquired: "What is going to happen in congress next month?"

One of the colleagues answered: "Harry Truman is lucky. He owes one debt he never will have to pay—to Henry Wallace. When Wallace bowed himself out he stepped on the red ruffles of Miss Democrat's petticoat, and pulled it along with him."

And it was generally admitted that much of the stigma connected with the charge of "coddling Communists" was removed when Wallace left. Like the Pied Piper (not of Hamelin, but once of Iowa) he piped away a lot of the "lunatic fringe" which is the eternal headache of all political parties.

The rodents in this case (both red and pink) followed the piper's dulcet promises. But the piper was unable to take his revenge. Unlike the fustian in the poem who lured Hamelin's children away when their parents wouldn't pay the rat-extirminator, Henry's piping titillated few Democratic ears. The voters didn't follow.

There were other unwept losses among Harry Truman's alleged supporters. He won the election without the solid south. The other end of the Democratic spectrum colored by the views of those who preferred mint juleps under the fragrant magnolias, to straight Yankee or middlewestern spirits withdrew discreetly and completely to their jasmine-curtained verandas. This doesn't mean they won't be heard from later, but they aren't the worry they once were.

While no one would bracket the conservatives with the "lunatic fringe," the Dixiecrats did cause many embarrassments to the Democrats. Now they are at least separately ticketed.

The Republicans likewise derived certain healing qualities from the cold douche they took on November 2, not unlike Mr. Truman's. A number of their die-hards died in the struggle with the electorate.

Minority Leader-to-Be Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, is no wild-eyed radical. So what he says on the subject of change (which is what the radical always wants) is significant.

Joe warned his friends back in Attleboro, Mass., a district which probably will elect him as long as he chooses to run, that the Republicans in the recent campaign offered the people "too many Brahmins, too many plutocrats." These Republican candidates, said Joe, likewise offered too little personality, did not appeal to the people, and formed a narrow circle which prevented what he called "expansion and the opening of ranks." (Of whom could he have been thinking?)

"We digressed too far from the people," the former speaker said, and the "GOP must reorganize in the cities and towns, getting in new blood at every level." Joe was speaking then out of his deep political wisdom.

Social Legislation Is Here to Stay

Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican national committee in the recent campaign, gave another significant post-election warning to his party. Republicans must recognize, he said, that legislation embodying social gains is here to stay.

So it would appear that these men, and many of the other Republicans who now represent the GOP in congress, are as happy to be relieved, not of a lunatic fringe like the Democrats, but of an albatross around their necks.

The Republicans who are trying to re-form their ranks and re-build for 1950 are by no means pessimistic. To quote Joe Martin again, he predicted that the GOP would snap back quicker than they went out. They know now, if some of them didn't before, they must keep in step with the times. One of the great problems the Republican national committee faced in the campaign was reconciling the progressive ideas set forth in Mr. Dewey's speeches with the somewhat pleistocene attitude (as one observer described it), of some of the ex-candidates for house and senate.

Witness the embarrassing situation in West Virginia, not to mention Illinois. The New York governor simply couldn't stomach crossing the borders of West Virginia to embrace its recalcitrant senator.

Chicago on the other hand is a railway center and it was necessary for Governor Dewey to change trains there and "in Rome do as Romans do." He did, and endorsed the Republican senatorial candidate from Illinois. But the citizens of Illinois did not.

Had Mr. Dewey been elected, and had the Republican senator from Illinois been re-elected, the White House would have faced difficulties, among them the embarrassing paradox: Sen. C. Wayland Brooks opposed the Marshall plan which Dewey strongly endorsed. Taking that as a guide, it seems possible that Brooks could have been counted upon to vote against a Dewey-Dulles foreign policy as he did against Mr. Truman's.

Liberal Thought Growing in U. S.

The election, I believe, caused thoughtful people to emerge with one idea which the entire nation, regardless of its politics, will have to get used to. The thought is not original with me, but it is one that was mentioned by the only person who did predict the election result (except the man I lost a bet to). Agriculture Economist Bean said something like this:

The wave of liberal thought which appeared to have reached its zenith under Roosevelt is still on the upswing. Apparently the natural post-war reaction stopped it, but didn't start it going in the opposite direction.

Now some of you may not like that thought, but it were well to accustom oneself to the idea. Nor need you expect the pendulum ever to swing as far back as you might wish. Personally, I enjoy riding behind a spanking team in a buggy "with the fringe on top," and I wonder if we wouldn't all be better off if the internal combustion engine had never been invented. But I am willing to admit, things being what they are, that we have traffic lights and other annoying regulations.

At any rate, when President Truman takes the rostrum to deliver his message in January, he will look out on a congress which, his friends claim, he fashioned in large part with his own hand. Or I might say with his own sharp tongue from a back platform.

Harry Truman went out and fought tooth and nail, he holds barred, for the kind of congress he wanted. The people, whether or not that was their only intention, gave it to him.

And now as one somewhat cynical observer remarked to me:

"Harry's got what he wanted, God help him."

He has to deliver now.

A horse is better off without his curry-comb than a fox is without his brush.

You can't always tell by the label—I never saw a Boston bull eating beans or a greyhound riding in a bus.

A plant has been established in King William's Town, South Africa, says the Canadian department of agriculture, for processing sheepskins. They ought to make good diplomas for the wool on them has been retained—to pull over the faculty's eyes, no doubt.

Home sewing has become America's number one hobby, I am informed. A stitch in time might save going to nine bad movies.

It's hard to find anything you like to eat when you're on a diet. But suppose you were an ant-eater?

Home sewing is a bigger business than ever—but what's being sewed is nobody's business.

The Wednesday Democrats have turned out to be Saturday's children when it comes to getting jobs in Washington.

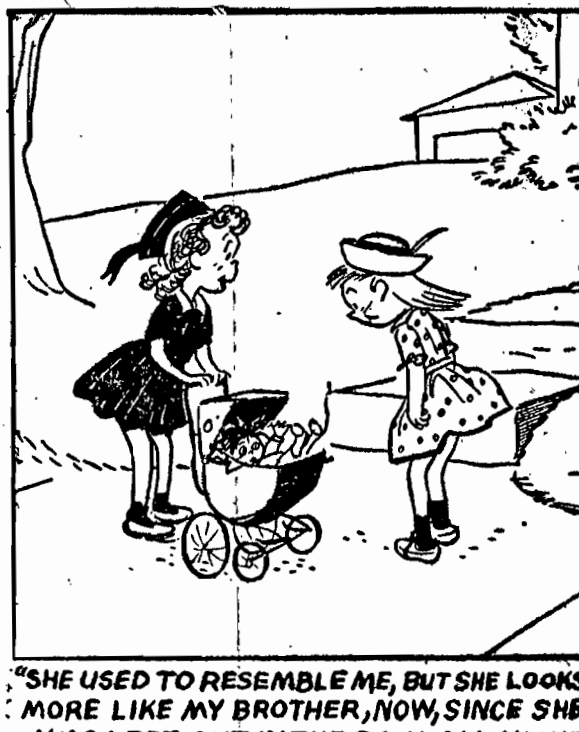

An elephant can do a lot of things with his trunk but he has to carry it with him when he travels. I can check mine.

The ocean is growing saltier, according to the National Geographic. Probably getting jealous of the Great Salt lake.

Television is climbing out of its cradle, says Electrical Advertising. Let's hope it won't crawl back to meet the occupants of cradles half way.

Export of butter from the Argentine is increasing. Perhaps because it won't melt in President Peron's mouth when he tells what he'll do to people who want to prevent his re-election.

It's an ill wind (I'd say seriously ill) that blows nobody's good cigarette lighter out.

Doctor Brings 'em Back From Africa in Picture

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

A MUCH appreciated friend—more than only an acquaintance—of 30 years and more is Dr. Frank P. Thompson of Chicago.

Dr. Thompson's vocation is that of an eye specialist. In his profession he has an exceptionally large practice. For 18 months out of each two years he follows that vocation assiduously. The other six months of the two-year period he devotes to his avocation, his playtime, his hobby. That is photographing the wild game in the African jungles, especially elephants and hippopotamuses.

FRANK Thompson is a comparatively small man, under five feet eight inches, I should say. His weight, I would guess, is under 130 pounds. He has, I imagine, celebrated not fewer than 60 birthdays. He does not look capable of withstanding the rigors of life in the African wilds, but he has done just that on many a six-month stretch and seems none the worse for the experience.

He goes into Africa in the simplest possible way. A small number of native carriers accompany him, enough to transport only the barest necessities, including his cameras. His purpose is not the killing of African game but to photograph it in its native habitat, especially the elephant and the hippopotamus, on which he is ranked as an outstanding authority.

GUIDES are a non-essential, for Frank Thompson knows Africa, and he knows African wild life. He knows where to look for those animals of which he wants pictures, and how to get to such places. Once he enters the expanse of African jungle, bush and forests his friends seldom hear from him. He is out of the reach of postal services, of telegraph- or radio sending stations.

While what he is doing as his avocation involves constant danger, his friends have learned to realize that Frank can take care of himself. He always has come back, though he has faced both charging elephants and hippopotamuses. On occasion he has shot the enraged beasts as a choice between his life and that of the charging animal.

During World War II Frank suspended his avocational trips into wild Africa. The war was being waged in Africa as well as throughout the remainder of the world, and wild men added to wild beasts represented more hazard than he cared to encounter.

ON HIS photographic expeditions Frank has, on some occasions, undertaken to secure specimens such African animals as museum or other educational institution might need to complete a collection. His one trophy, other than pictures that he brought back from his recently completed expedition, the long neck and head of a giraffe.

It now has joined the collection of trophies covering the walls of the club rooms of the Adventure club, of which he is an outstanding member. It was a specimen club did not have until Frank Thompson completed its collection. It was at the Adventure club I have known Frank for the 30 years and more.

FRANK does not consider his expeditions into Africa as adventures. He thinks of them as but a play time. Unless other who know Africa and its wild denizens happen to meet across or around a club table, he does not talk of them. When, under such conditions, he does talk, it is in low tones, and in a matter-of-fact way that displays the slightest element of boasting.

I have heard him tell of charging elephants and hippopotamuses when it was a case of his life or of the enraged animal. Under conditions Frank will shoot, and cannot afford to miss. Should it be possible to step aside and let animals pass, he does not attempt to stop them. To Frank Thompson such incidents were not adventures; they were but ordinary incidents in his picture-taking play time in Africa.

Frank Thompson is one of the most unusual characters I have known, and it is a privilege to be permitted to call him "friend."

On the night of November 3, when the umpire called the end of the game, we patched up our bruises and scratches, assured ourselves we had had a rollicking time, each promised another friendly set in 1952. That is the way of the public and the reason it continues to function.

HAVING had a generous taste of something-for-nothing-sweets will continue to demand more until there is nothing left in the empty carton.

The Republicans can console themselves with the knowledge there will be another chance in only four years to wait.

President Truman's interview proved a better political weapon than the intricate mechanism used by Dr. Gallup.

A Week at N.H.S.

BY PAT SHELTON

Hi, kids! I certainly do hope all of you enjoyed your Thanksgiving vacation. But here we are, back to school!

We were all deeply moved to hear that our former headmaster Mr. Crooker, whom everyone of us liked, had passed away. I'm sure the whole school extends their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Crooker and her two children.

Classes were shortened last Wednesday and a movie was shown in the NHS auditorium, titled "Winter in New Hampshire," it proved to be extremely interesting. It showed various ski resorts, and also how our roads are kept in a safe condition throughout the winter. After seeing the movie school was dismissed at 12.

Tickets are now on sale for the Cheerleader Rally. The price of these ducats is only twenty-five cents, one-fourth of a dollar! Show some school spirit, kids! Come and learn the cheer and when our team is out on the floor this year they'll know we're all behind them, whether they are winning or losing! We may be a small school but the spirit behind the team can be as large as you kids want it! Remember, it isn't the size of a school that's important, it's the school spirit!

Starting with this edition, several cheers will be printed each week. Cut them out and save them! Listed below are several cheers:

You gotta FIGHT
You gotta FIGHT
You gotta FIGHT

Hampton may have a team that's tall,

Exeter may have a team that's neat,

But our team is best of all,
Because it's a team that's hard to beat!

Ripsaw, Ripsaw, Ripsaw bang!
We belong to the Victory Gang!
VICTORY!
Victory! Victory! That's our cry!
Are we in it? Well, I guess!
Newmarket High School! Yes!
Yes! Yes!

TEAM yea team!
TEAM yea team!
TEAM yea team!
Fight team, fight.

Who for? Why for?
Who you gonna yell for?
Newmarket! Newmarket! Newmarket!

Down by the river with a clickety clack,

We'll beat that team and send them back!

With a hidy-si, and a hody-ho,

Come on Newmarket, let's go!

Our team is red hot!

Our team is red hot!

Our team is red hot!

Strawberry shortcake! huckleberry pie!

VICTORY!

Are we in it? Well I guess!

Newmarket High School. Yes!

Yes! Yes!

You haven't got the swing!

You haven't got the team!

You haven't got the jazz!

That Newmarket has!

Rah! Rah! Rah! Sis boom bah!

Newmarket High is best by far!

Let's get started and go to town!

Bring up the score boys,

And leave their's down!

You can do it, you did it before!

So come on Newmarket, score!

score! score!

We've got the coach, we've got the team!

We've got the pep, we're on the beam!

So shoot 'em high and shoot 'em low,

Come on Newmarket let's go!

KNOW YOUR TEAM

In this edition your reporter will present the first column of a series of write-ups about our basketball team.

This week I shall tell you about our Basketball Captain—namely, Captain Albert Caswell, commonly called Caz.

Caz was born in Exeter. He attended the Primary, Stone and High school in Newmarket. He is now a Senior and is studying under the General Course. His subjects include Physics, World Problems, English and Economics. Caz says his favorite game was last year's game against Exeter High at Exeter.

He thinks that for a while it looked as though Newmarket win. Asked his opinion of interscholastic basketball, Caz replied that he thought it was good because it brought about friendliness between schools.

A very active member in school, Caz is also on the baseball team, was in the junior play last spring and the senior play this fall.

His favorite sports are, baseball, basketball, football, swimming and skiing. After graduation Caz plans to enter the service.

Good luck to you, Caz!

See you next week kids. —Pat.

THE LIGHT OF SACRED STORY

For a number of years The American Bible Society has spearheaded a world-wide, Bible reading plan from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

Millions of people have participated and been blessed by it. A great many continue their Bible reading through the year. However, the benefits to be derived depend on the attitude of the one who reads.

The reader ought to ask himself: Why do I read the Bible? What am I looking for? What do I expect to find? What do I do about it when I have done reading?

Perhaps the earnest Bible reader may find it helpful to recall the words of an old favorite hymn: In the Cross of Christ I glory

Towering o'er the wrecks of time. All the lights of sacred story Gathers round its head sublime.

The light of the entire sacred story is concentrated in Him who suffered and died on the Cross. When a Bible reader discovers that our Lord Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world, is the theme and the substance of the scriptures, it all takes on a new meaning. The love of God for sinful man; the price paid by the Son of God for the redemption of mankind; the ongoing effort of our Savior to draw sinners up to Himself: all this will cause an upsurge of thankfulness in the reader's heart. He will make his own the praises of the Psalmist which he has frequently read:

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; Who healeth all thy diseases: Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies."
