SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF NEWMARKET:

RECORD OF PROGRESS.

The present superintendent came to the supervisory union three years ago this month. Since that time

1. A new high school has been erected in Newmarket, and a new school building in Greenland.

2. Schoolhouses have been completely remodeled at Oak Hill in Barrington, and at Packers Falls in Durham, and partly remodeled at South Lee and at Winkley School in Barrington. Three schools in Barrington, which were poorly located, or had too few pupils, have been given up in favor of two unused buildings more centrally located.

3. New equipment has been purchased for Greenland and Newmarket; also for the South Lee School and for the Center School in Madbury.

4. The heating and ventilation of rural schools has been improved at four schools in Barrington, one in Durham, and one in Lee.

5. In every school in the Union, with very little additional expense to the towns, the efficiency of the teaching has been increased by the purchase of more modern textbooks and supplies.

6. The Superintendent has made 2,835 visits to the schools; 257 in Barrington, 642 in Durham, 324 in Greenland, 176 in Lee, 132 in Madbury and 1,304 in Newmarket.

7. He has aided the school boards in finding and employing sixty-eight teachers; eight for Barrington, eighteen for Durham, eight for Greenland, five for Lee, four for Madbury and twenty-five for Newmarket.

8. There is no doubt that the teaching force now employed in Newmarket and in Barrington is superior to that of three years ago, while in the judgment of the superintendent, the present teachers in Durham, Greenland, Lee and Madbury are on the whole doing better work in each town than was done in January 1922.

This summary not only shows the activity of the superintendent, but indicates a spirit of progressive leadership on the part of school board members, and generous support by the people.

THE PEOPLE WANT GOOD SCHOOLS.

To whom should credit be given for this record of progress? First of all to the people who provide the "Sinews of War." This includes not only persons who have children in whose immediate welfare they are interested, but many who have no children, that are wise enough to see that the very existence of the community depends upon the proper care and education of the boys and girls. The people of most progressive towns of America have passed through the fever of fighting for and against the schools, and have reached the common-sense conclusion that the way to improve the community and the way to improve living conditions for the individual is to provide more money for the public schools. Wherever there is an active Parent-Teachers Association, it is there because a group of thinking people are willing to familiarize themselves with the conditions and needs of the schools and to band themselves together to work for the success and the betterment of the schools. Of course, leadership is expected of school officers, but they can do little unless their plans are backed up by the men and women voters of the town.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP OF SCHOOL BOARDS.

The lot of the school board member is not an easy one. Some of them must sometimes feel that their chief duty is to hear complaints, many of which are trivial and should not have taken up the time of these busy people. If a parent has a complaint against the teacher, the best thing to do is to call on the teacher at the close of school, or at her home, and in a frank and friendly way talk the matter over and find a reasonable remedy for the difficulty. The disciplinary problems a teacher has to face are varied, numerous and complicated. Parents should try to get the teacher's point of view. Teachers are trained and definitely instructed to go more than half way to meet a parent's views with regard to difficulties in the school. A friendly interview with the teacher is the best plan that has ever been discovered or invented for smoothing out school troubles. If such a method does not satisfy the parent after it has been tried, the superintendent and the school boards are always ready to do anything needful to see that children are properly taught, properly treated, and well behaved in school. There should be more consideration for school board members, and more appreciation of the important service they render the community. In most of the towns it is not easy to find qualified persons who are able and willing to give the time and thought necessary to the work of carrying on the schools. The personnel of the school boards in Lee and Durham has changed completely in three years. One new member has been elected in Newmarket, also in Madbury. Two different members have filled a vacancy in Greenland. Only the Barrington board remains unchanged.

Progress in the schools depends on the vision and leadership of the school board members. The people have confidence in them, and will usually do, in time, what they feel ought to be done for the schools. Without their support the superintendent can do nothing, and to them belongs the credit for the progress that has been made. They create the conditions and make the standards for the school. They determine the policies and the programs. They employ the teachers and the superintendent. If the school houses and the school conditions are better, if the teachers are doing more teaching and better teaching, if the superintendent is capable and faithful to his duties, give the credit to the school board for a record of three years of progress that affects every one of the six towns.

THE SUCCESS OF THE SCHOOL LAW.

School progress has been made possible by the law of the state. The school law of 1919 seems to have been definitely acceptable to most people of the state. It is now well established because it has improved the schools in all quarters of the state. It has created standards for school board service, for the school year, for school buildings and equipment, for health of pupils, for trained teachers, and for qualified superintendents and supervision. The people of the state should be told that the kind of direction and definite instruction that superintendents get from the state through the State Board and through the Commissioner and his assistants is not restrictive in any way, but is helpful and stimulating to growth and progress. The law has established the principle of equalizing school privileges throughout the state and makes it possible for the more populous and wealthy communities to help provide state funds for the improvement of schools in the other towns. This principle is right and sound, for the entire state must protect itself against ignorance and poverty in any part of it, or among any part of its people. The law provides a high type of supervision for every town in the state and yet leaves the control of the schools in the hands of the local school boards elected by the people.

BENEFITS OF SUPERVISION.

The benefits of supervision are so far reaching and numerous that we can give only a brief sketch of them in this report. Consider them impersonally as they might have been performed by any qualified superintendent. To find good teachers for the many vacancies requires much of the superintendent's time during the spring and summer. Letters to agencies, to normal schools and to neighbor superintendents must be written to find out whether teachers are available for the positions. Letters are then written to the teachers to find out whether they are interested in the position and to secure information and recommendations. By this means the number of applicants for a place is sifted down to the three or four that seem the best. Then comes more correspondence, telephoning to make appointments and considerable travel to enable the superintendent to interview the applicants and the people for whom they worked. It is in this way that teachers are found who fit the position and the community.

The superintendent aids the school boards in the administration of the schools. He attends the school board meetings and is ready to give such advice and information about school matters as they require. By frequent visits, he keeps in touch with the conditions of the schools and keeps the board informed of matters needing attention. When called upon he gives the board his advice or assistance in preparing the budget and in making out reports. He is frequently called on to aid other school officers. He saves the school boards considerable time and work by taking care of the orders for books and supplies and in checking up the bills for them. His training and experience enable him to judge textbooks and school equipment as they affect teaching, so that most of the school board members prefer to leave the selection of these things to him. He is the representative of the school board in dealing with teachers and with pupils. He is responsible for the attendance of pupils and for the enforcement of all laws pertaining to attendance, the employment of children, and child welfare. He diagnoses the teaching and the needs of the schools, reporting to the school boards his recommendations for changes or improvements. For each town in the union, so far as time permits, the superintendent endeavors to maintain the same relation to the school board and to perform his duties in the same way that he would if he were employed by the school board for that town alone.

Supervising the work of the teachers is the superintendent's most important duty. He finds new teachers and helps them to get located. He aids them, if necessary, in making out their programs and in getting school started. He sees that all teachers have the needed books and other equipment. He gives them advice and directions concerning the course of study and the work in the different grades. He stands ready at all times to give them help and advice as well as support in difficult problems of attendance or discipline. By the regular reports that teachers send in, he checks up on the amount of work accomplished in each grade. By frequent visits to the schools he judges the quality of the teaching. He tests the work of the pupils and determines their grading and promotion. He encourages teachers where encouragement is needed, and corrects them when correction will work for the good of the school. He gives instruction in individual conferences with teachers and in teachers' meetings. He works for the improvement of teaching methods by providing the teachers with helps and reading matter, by talking with them individually and by bringing them together in conferences. His duties are numerous and varied. His influence is large. The problems of good schools are ever pressing for attention and solution. He has a great deal to do with keeping schools up to a high standard and in keeping teachers working for improvement. When the citizens consider the variety and extent of his service for the betterment of the schools, it is unlikely that many of them would wish to lose the benefits that are plainly evident in school supervision.

CONDITION OF THE SCHOOLS.

During the past year the schools of Newmarket have been in good condition. No serious problems of overcrowding, or of poor housing have hampered the work. Pupils have been regular in attendance and have received uniformly a good quality of teaching. Below is the attendance record for this year from September to January inclusive.

QUALITY OF TEACHING.

Considering the experience of the teachers, the work being done in the grade schools is of high quality. The standards of the state program are being maintained. A commendable spirit of loyalty, co-operation and desire for professional growth prevails among the teachers. The results obtained in our schools, I believe, would compare favorably with those in neighboring towns and cities. To make sure of this use should be made of some of the many standard tests now available.

THE PROBLEM OF RETARDATION.

The most serious problem of grading and of teaching in our schools is that of retardation. The age-grade table shows the large number of pupils in each grade who are from one year to three years behind the grade in school where they normally should be. The presence of these pupils, being misfits, in every class is not only detrimental to themselves, but is also detrimental to the other pupils. Because they are misfits, they require special teaching and take up much of the teacher's time, or because they are older than the rest of the class, they feel out of place and cause the greater part of the disorder in every room. The large number of retarded pupils in Newmarket is due to two things. We have a great many people who have moved here from other towns and changed their pupils from one school to another. We also have several families from Canada. Many of these pupils have had no knowledge of English before they came into the public schools. Some of them with poor mentality will always be behind, but many of them, if they could have the right kind of help, could be brought up to grade two or three years ahead of where they are now.

NEED OF A SPECIAL ROOM.

If these pupils could be gathered together into a class by themselves numbering not more than twenty with an experienced teacher, many of them could make up their deficiencies. The discipline and the teaching in all the rooms affected would be greatly improved by the removal of these special "problems." This is the way that many progressive communities have taken to care for retarded pupils. This room should never be called or thought of as a room for backward pupils, but rather as an "opportunity" room where pupils needing special help have a chance to get ahead. The prospect of overtaking pupils of his own age would provide a strong incentive to each one in the room. As soon as the pupil made up his work, he might be allowed to "graduate" into his own grade, and his place would be taken by another who most needed this help. In the long run this room would require little extra expense to the town, as these pupils have to be taken care of in school and will probably get through school sooner under this plan. Forty pupils not promoted in any year will cost the town the expense of carrying on a regular room in school. The special room in the course of the year should help to forestall at least forty failures of promotion and perhaps more.

THE NEED OF PERMANENT TEACHERS.

Newmarket High School is steadily mounting in rank among the high schools of the state. The third year of work by the present headmaster, Mr. Alvin E. Thomas, finds the school better organized, and the pupils getting better training than ever before. A very necessary thing if Newmarket is to have a good high school is to build up a strong corps of experienced teachers. Four of the six teachers are new to the town and are beginning their teaching experience this year. All are capable, loyal teachers, interested in their work and devoting their time and energy without stint to their school work, but four changes per year out of six teachers is too large a proportion to build up a strong school and to have the best teaching. This matter is so important for the welfare of the school and for the pupils under instruction that I believe every thing possible should be done to retain good teachers when we have them. There are three things that will help to do this. Salaries should be increased more nearly to meet the offers that our teachers receive every year. At the beginning of the year and all through the year teachers should be made welcome in Newmarket and made to like the town so well that they cannot be drawn away from here. This demands the attention and interest of all the Newmarket people who want us to maintain a good high school. The third thing is to reduce the number of periods that our teachers are required to teach. The usual amount expected of high school teachers is twenty-five out of thirty, or thirty out of thirty-five teaching periods per week. At present our teachers are all teaching seven and one-half periods or more daily out of a possible eight and a half periods daily, or an average of thirty-seven and one-half periods per week. This amount of work, to be done well, requires more outside study and preparation than any beginning teacher can possibly do. Should not the school have another teacher, so that none of the teachers need be required to prepare lessons for as many as seven classes every day? I believe that we have had from the teachers this year the best work that I have known in Newmarket, and as good as we could have from teachers who are beginning their work.

DRILL ON THE FUNDAMENTALS.

One of the complaints made against high schools in general is that graduates are not able to write a satisfactory business letter, that they are unable to spell or to perform simple computations in arithmetic. One of the principal features of the New Hampshire High School Program is that time should be given to drill pupils in the fundamentals of grammar, spelling and arithmetic, so that they would not lose the ability they gained in the grades. It is plain to every one that unless pupils keep up some practice in the fundamentals of the grade studies that they will lose their efficiency in them. In the high school this year we are carrying on a special campaign to have the pupils in all the classes improve in these fundamental matters. This means extra time and extra work for the teachers, but all have taken hold of it with a will and considerable progress has been made already. We hope that by the end of the year even greater progress in the fundamentals will be made by all of the classes than was made by the sophomores who received this drill for a short time last year.

ADDITIONAL CLASSES IN VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

The work being done in manual training and domestic science this year is better, I believe, than we have had done before, due largely to the excellent equipment that we now have for this work. Thorough training along these lines is approved by the best educational thought and practice in most progressive communities. Many of the places in New Hampshire are increasing the amount of vocational instruction in the schools, and will undoubtedly continue to do so. I believe that the people in Newmarket are pleased with the results accomplished this year. Several requests have been made on the part of pupils and parents that this work should be given also to pupils in the high school. I think it would be well to have advanced classes in manual training and domestic science in the freshmen and sophomore years, beginning next year with the freshmen and taking on the sophomores a year later. This addition to the program would require another teacher, but the results obtained and the practical value of the vocational courses would be appreciated by the people of the town.

With a high sense of gratitude for the interest and loyalty of a fine group of teachers, for the friendly counsel and the whole hearted interest of the building committee, and for the helpful co-operation and support of the school board members during the year this report is

Respectfully submitted,

O. R. McCOY,
Superintendent of Schools.
